Tiburon Fire Victim Dies

Robert G. St. John, 40-year-old Tiburon hairdresser, died at 2:35 a.m. yesterday of burns suffered when fire swept his home early Sunday. He had never regained consciousness since being carried from the burning house at 2298 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

He was Marin's second victim of burns to die in just over 16 hours. Darlene M. Reed, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reed of 88 Elm Avenue, San Anselmo, died at 10:25 p.m. Tuesday of burns suffered when fire gutted the family home 21 hours earlier.

St. George, also known as Robert P. Gibbs, and his partner, Paul Edwards, were both overcome by smoke as St. George attempted to arouse Edwards after being awakened by the smoke and fire about 5:40 a.m. Sunday.

Still in critical condition in the same hospital—and still unconscious—was yet another fire victim, Mrs. Ione Peck of 6 Lower Alcatraz Place, Mill Valley, who was burned over virtually her entire body in a fire that consumed her bed on Monday afternoon.

Meanwhile, Chief Raymond R. Buchignani of San Anselmo police said investigation by his department and the San Anselmo Fire Department had satisfied him that the blaze which took the life of Darlene Reed was started by her brothers playing with matches.

Buchignani said 5-year-old James Reed admitted to police and fire department questioners that he and his brother, Samuel, 4, were playing with matches. The chief said James told questioners he took the matches from a dresser and he and Samuel started lighting them.

Samuel remained in Marin General Hospital today under treatment for first and second degree burns on his face and shoulder.

St. George and Edwards were partners in Paul and Bob's Beauty Salon at 1690 Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon. St. George was a native of Florida and had lived in California for seven years.

He was a son of Mrs. Mae Moss of Tampa, Fla., and the body will be sent to Jennings Funeral Home in Tampa for funeral services, reported Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Police Plan To Ride Herd On Goblins

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

Halloween plus Saturday night equals trouble—maybe.

Using this equation as their guide, police chiefs throughout Marin County have arranged to place as many cars and officers as they can on the streets while the witches and goblins are prowling Saturday.

Nearly every force has judgled its schedule for the week so no one's night off will fall on Saturday in addition, many day shift men will be called in to put in from three to five hours overtime during the hours when vandalism and pranks most often occur.

RESERVE DUE

Reserve patrolmen, too, will be put to work so that most patrol cars will have two men in them.

Actually, it is not the little witches and hobgoblins, with their masks and paper bags, who arouse the fears of law officers. It is their teen-aged big brothers, and maybe a few old fogies, too, after they have tippled a bit at house parties, who do needless damage and even physical harm.

NOVATO READY

One of the best-prepared cities is Novato, whose police have not forgotten the unruly gang of 500 juveniles who had to be threatened with firehoses before they would leave the downtown area last Halloween.

All 12 of Novato's policemen, including Chief R. J. DiGrazia, will be working, as will be nine reserve patrolmen.

City officials have granted DiGrazia permission to equip this expanded force with a "motor pool" of 12 cars, including their

Ocean Research Base Hits 'Reef'

By JEFF GREER

Marin County may lose its new ocean mining research station at the Old Tiburon Naval Net Depot, it was disclosed at last night's meeting of the Council of Mayors and Councilmen.

John E. Crawford, program coordinator for the U.S. Bureau of Mines, answered questions about the research facility's permanency by declaring, "There's still a big 'if.' I don't want you to think we're necessarily here to stay."

He said the Navy wants to retain control of the depot's one good pier, to use it a few hours each month for electronic tests. Loss of the pier would cripple the joint federal-industry research project on extracting vital minerals from the ocean botton, because it would be unable to tie up its research vessels in the depot's deep-water harbor, he declared.

To several cities' questions of "what can we do?" to help keep the research station, Crawford answered, "I don't want to leave, but this is a real serious problem."

He said public support for the project, expressed to Congress, might persuade the Defense Department to turn the base over to the Department of the In-

Cable Car Slides, Dents Autos

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A cable car slid down the hill at California and Grant streets this morning and crunched three cars.

Gripman Bruce Thomas said he applied all of the brakes, but due to wet and oily rails, he could not stop.

Slicks, Slides Snarl Traffic; 3.67 Inches In Twin Storms

Clear Sky Forecast Tonight

Marin's first storm, billed as short selected showers, has turned into a double feature.

After a brief intermission yesterday morning, the program resumed, reaching classic proportions by late afternoon. Rain continued until this morning—and clouds remained with threat of more downpour.

To most Marin residents, the storm brought a refreshing relief from the long summer drought. It brought a total of 2.28 inches of rain in San Rafael as of noon today.

The total was 3.67 inches at Kent Lake as of 8 a.m. today. That was the county's wettest spot.

Run-off in county streams still had not picked up because of the dry ground prior to the storm. Run-off was predicted to begin soon, however, if the rain continued.

A spokesman for the Marin Municipal Water District said the ground was about at the saturation point at the time of a break in the rain this morning.

San Rafael's storm total brings the season total to 2.31

IT WAS A HOUSE—The scattered wreckage of the J. T. Kent Jr. summer home at Inverness lies on mud of the slide that doomed it. It is believed that ground water, either from a leaking pipe or a spring, undermined the hillside. The slide occurred early yesterday before the heavy rainfall.

One Crash Involves 11 Motorists

Blinding rain, slick pavements, rock slides and chain-reaction accidents, one of them involving 11 cars, turned Marin County's traffic into an acute and hazardous venture for motorists last night and today.

A heavy rock slide 200 feet north of Rodeo Avenue, blocked two of the four southbound lanes of Highway 101 at 8:45 a.m. today, backing traffic up to Richardson Bay Bridge. The slide was cleared within two hours by state crews, but the right-hand lane remained closed because of danger of additional rock slides.

The slide cascaded rocks onto a southbound car driven by Carl Q. Riznik of Ross, breaking the windshield and one headlight and damaging the hood and understructure. Riznik and his passenger escaped unhurt.

Hazardous driving conditions slowed commute traffic to such a crawl last night that some city workers did not get to their Marin homes for two hours and more.

The driving rain slowed city-bound traffic again this morning. Three accidents, one of them causing injury, also contributed to the traffic slow-down.

Three persons were injured in a head-on collision on the San

House Is Swept Off Water-Soaked Hill

A summer house in Inverness was destroyed yesterday when a water-oaked hillside swept away with a roar, turning the home into matchwood.

The house, on Douglas Way, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kent Jr. of Berkeley. Mrs. Kent would not comment on the loss today, saying only that it was being referred to an attorney.

"Anything I say might complicate the matter even more," she said.

Speculation among neighbors was that ground water and not rainfall caused the hillside to collapse.

Joe Buttner, assistant manager of the company, said today the slide was still under investigation. Asked if there was a leak above the home, he said: "We don't know what we had up there."

Liston-Clay Bout To Be On Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mutual Radio Network announced today it had obtained radio rights to the Cassius Clay-Sonny Liston heavyweight title fight at Boston, Nov. 16 for approximately $250,000.

The network said the rights cover the 50 states and Canada. All of Mutual's 496 affiliates will be fed, plus stations in cities where there is no affiliate. About 550 to 600 stations will carry the bout.

There will be no regular home television of the fight.

Span Directors Want Expanded Crossing Studies

A committee of Golden Gate Bridge directors recommended today that the bridge district board ask for broader powers to study of San Francisco-Marin bay crossings.

The bridge board can now study only crossings of the Golden Gate itself, the district's lawyer, Jerome White, told the committee.

The bridge board will consider the committee recommendation at its regular meeting tomorrow. If it approves the recommendation, the board will ask the state

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Prokhorov Basov

Nobel Physics, Chemistry Prizes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—The 1964 Nobel Prizes for physics and chemistry were awarded today to an American, two Russians and an Englishwoman.

The American is Prof. Charles Townes, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge, Mass. He was joint winner of the physics prize for discovery and development of the revolutionary Maser-Laser principle of concentrated radio and light beams. Townes will receive half the $52,500 prize. The other half will be shared by two Soviet physicists, Aleksander Prokhorov and Nikolai Basov, who independently came upon the principle shortly after Townes's 1951 discovery.

Townes

The Nobel Prize for Chemistry went to Mrs. Dorothy Crowfoot Hodgkin, a research professor of the British Royal Society, for her determination through X-ray techniques of the structures of important biochemical substances.

Masers and Lasers potential is said to be equal in impact to that of nuclear fission.

Army Opens Fire

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — The army opened fire with machine guns early today on a crowd of miners at Sora, near La Paz, the national radio announced. Italy Jails Top Nuclear Scientist

ROME (UPI)—A Rome court tonight convicted Italy's former nuclear czar, Prof. Felice Ippolito, of embezzling more than a million dollars and sentenced him to terms ranging from one year and two months to two years and 10 months. Three more, including Ippolito's brother-in-law, were acquitted.

The sentence ended one of the most celebrated cases in Italy's wave of civil service scandals. The politically prominent Ippolito, a 48-year-old Neapolitan geologist, had been considered one of Italy's top scientists and best organizers.

Burton was an Ohio state legislator, mayor of Cleveland and then U.S. Senator.

Memorial services will be held in Washington and Cleveland.

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Kremlin's rulers today launched a new attack on Nikita Khrushchev.

"SINS LISTED"

In a pre-publication summary released by the official Tass News Agency, Kommunist listed a long line of "sins" that it said were "alien" to Soviet life. The "sins" included:

"Immature conclusions, and hasty decisions and actions divorced from reality, boasting and empty phrase-mongering, addiction to administrative measures, reluctance to take into account of what has already been evolved by science and practical experience."

The magazine added that the "building of communism . . . does not tolerate bureaucratic methods, singlehanded decisions."

TALKS END

The Kremlin leaders, trying to dampen criticism from foreign Communists of Khrushchev's removal, ended talks with visiting French Communists today. The French delegation left by plane for Paris.

A French Communist source said the delegation went home "very satisfied" with its talks.

Sources said Malinovsky was invited to the presidium meeting Oct. 14 that discussed Khrushchev's shortcomings and laid the groundwork for his forced resignation. Malinovsky turned on Khrushchev and supported Leonid Brezhnev and others who demanded Khrushchev's dismissal, the sources said.

British Supported

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has supported the British government's opposition to a move toward independence by Southern Rhodesia's white government, the State Department said yesterday.

Fearless New Birth Control Look Urged

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Cardinals and bishops urged the Vatican Ecumenical Council today to undertake a fearless new look at all aspects of traditional Roman Catholic teaching on birth control.

Leo Jozef Cardinals Suenens of Brussels, Belgium, put the matter squarely to the worldwide assembly of Roman Catholic prelates in St. Peter's, telling them:

"We must not be afraid to look at our traditional doctrine to see if it represents the final word. Let us see if there is not a new approach that can be taken."

Other speakers in today's council debate on modern world problems also urged the assembly to define more clearly the question of morality and birth control in the council scema on the church in the modern world. All, however, cautioned against abandoning traditional church teaching on this subject.

The speakers, whose remarks were reported by a council press spokesman, dealt with the birth control question in general terms without going into specifics. This appeared to be in line with an admonition by council presiding officers that the "more delicate" points in the debate be handled only in writing.

Beside debating the modern world schema, the council fathers today also completed their last major vote on their crucial theological schema de ecclesia, about the church. The vote today all but cleared the way for the proclamation of the schema as a decree formally affirming that the bishops collectively share authority over the church with the Pope.

Diet Called Only Way To Cut Weight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fatties aiming to lop off some of the lard should quit wasting their time seeking exotic solutions to their problems.

"If you want to lose weight, diet," says Dr. Edward H. Rynearson, Mayo Clinic consultant on metabolic diseases.

Rynearson, in an address to the annual meeting of the California Academy of General Practice, said yesterday he is disgusted with ladies who say they continue to gain while eating like birds.

"There has never been one person reported in the history of the world who could not lose weight if he had his calories restricted." he said.

Overweight persons, he added, are unrealistic and "resort to a lot of hogwash to persuade their families and friends there must be something mysterious about their weight problems."

"There are no shortcuts to a trim and healthy figure," he said.

Dr. Rynearson said he is 10 pounds overweight, at 198 pounds.

Astronaut Declares Booster Is 'Safest'

BALTIMORE (AP) — Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom says the Titan rocket scheduled to launch him and his partner around the earth about next February is the safest space-booster yet produced.

Grissom told reporters yesterday that he is far more confident of the GT3 vehicle — so called because it is the third Gemini-Titan rocket to be built —than he ever was of its predecessors.

Mayors Council Balked On Transit District Stand

The Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen found itself unable to take a definite stand last night on County Measure B—the proposed formation of a Marin transit district.

A roll call of cities found four voting "yes" on a motion to endorse the transit district, three voting "no," two cities abstaining because the councils had not taken a stand, and two cities silent.

Acting Chairman Charles W. Aby of San Rafael finally declared the endorsement motion died for lack of an absolute majority, overruling Tiburon Councilman Leo Souza's objection that a majority of those voting had said "yes."

Chief criticism raised during discussion of the transit district was lack of representation for cities on the proposed district's controlling board. Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst also opposed the proposed district's powers of condemnation for transit facilities without giving the cities any say, and the lack of a no-strike clause.

He declared that "vote now, pay later is not a fair answer" to Marin County's transit study need.

Novato Councilman Wayne Womack, who had moved for endorsement, countered that at the time the county board of supervisors put the proposition on the Nov. 3 ballot, "it was unaware of the cities' objections." He opined that the formation legislation could later be amended to take care of the cities' complaints.

"Yes" — Belvedere, Novato, Sausalito and Tiburon.

"No"—Corte Madera, Larkspur and San Rafael.

"Abstaining"—Mill Valley and San Anselmo.

Silent were Fairfax and Ross.

The Marin County Council of Mayors and Councilmen also:

1. Elected Tiburon's Mayor Strawbridge as chairman for the next quarter, succeeding San Rafael's Mayor John F. McInnis.

2. Amended the bylaws to provide that in the absence of the regular chairman, regular meetings shall be conducted by the presiding officer of the host city.

3. Heard Sausalito Mayor Jan Paul Dyk urge action for better fire protection in unincorporated "fringe areas" around cities. He proposed requesting cooperation from County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom and others to insure that adequate fire mains are installed in new construction outside cities. He cited recent loss of a house on Sausalito's Wolfback Ridge due to lack of water.

4. Decided to combine November and December meetings into one session Dec 9, with Larkspur as host city.

It was the second fatal accident of the huge sea-life known as operation Steel Pike I. A collision between two helicopters on Monday killed nine Marines and injured 12 others.

Rafael overpass near the spot where six persons died in a similar collision last June 27.

Injured were Eugene Roy Purtell, 51, of 664 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, driver of a northbound car which bounced across the highway into the southbound lanes; Alfred V. Guidet, 46, and his wife, Mollie R. Guidet, 37, who were headed south, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Three other cars were involved in the accident in pouring rain at 7:45 a.m.

Purtell was listed in fair condition, with head, chest and right shoulder injuries, at Marin General Hospital. Guidet was treated for a cut chin and his wife for more extensive injuries.

Highway patrolmen said all three were wearing seatbelts or the injuries might have been more extreme.

According to the patrol, the Purtell car failed to straighten out of the right hand curve after entering the viaduct, hit the right-hand wall and bounced across the road into southbound traffic.

Purtell's auto hit the side of a southbound car driven by Victor J. Spini, 18, of 206 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, a car driven by Alan W. Rosenberg, 34, of 687 Woodbine Drive, San Rafael, hit the rear of the Guidet vehicle. Still another southbound car, driven by Philip A. Hawkins, 22, of Petaluma, then ran into Purtell's car.

Traffic was backed up in the rain past Marinwood soon after the accident.

A crash at 7:55 a.m. today involved three cars 1,000 feet south of the H. H. Koch and Sons luggage factory in Corte Madera. A southbound car driven by Irene Hall, 37, of House 121, Marin City, skidded into the center divider fence and bounced back into the center lane, where it was struck by a following car driven by Anthony L. Neray, 28, of San Francisco, the highway patrol reported.

The Hall car was then struck by a third southbound car driven by John E. Lahart, 23, of 496 B Street, San Rafael. All three cars were wrecked. Mrs. Hall was treated for a head injury at Marin General Hospital.

Northbound cars began piling up at 8 a.m. just south of Alto Hill. Before the crashes stopped, there were 11 cars involved.

According to the highway patrol, a pickup truck driven by Albert Van Der Worth Jr., 58, of 222 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, slowed because traffic was stopped ahead. It was hit in the rear by a car driven by Richard L. Hastings, 16, of 26 Andrew Drive, Tiburon.

A car driven by P. M. Armitage, 17, of 460 Ridge Road, Tiburon, slowed to pass the wrecked cars, in the middle lane, when his vehicle and one driven by Adina W. Robinson, 53, of 16 Apollo Road, Tiburon, collided.

The Hastings auto bounced off the first collision into a car driven by Robert J. Halero, 45, of San Francisco. An auto driven by John G. Barr Jr., 33, of Concord, slowed and was hit from the rear by a Plymouth Barracuda which did not stop and whose driver is still unknown.

A car driven by Linda K. Crump, 17, of San Francisco, slowed coming over the top of the hill, and another, driven by Jake F. McFarren, 39, of San Francisco, swerved to avoid the Crump car, skidded and rammed the side of the Crump vehicle.

Kathleen A. Eagle, 17, of San Francisco, pulled her car into the center fence to avoid the other cars, strewn across the road. Another car, driven by Karen L. Erwin, 21, of San Francisco, skidded into the rear of another car, but highway patrolmen said they did not know whose it was.

HOUSE

said the slide happened shortly after 5 a.m. yesterday.

"It sounded like a peal of thunder," he said. "Then there was a second peal. That was the small guest house going."

The mud, partially blocked by trees, spread across Douglas Way and oozed like lava into the front yard of the Alfred West home across the road. Neither home was occupied at the time of the slide.

Tam Sanitary Director Leaves Bed To Vote

Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District directors stalemated in a split vote Monday night as to whether building lots in Tamalpais Woods Assessment District should be assessed per building site or per lot.

To overcome the stalemate, they telephoned Gale E. Bishel, in bed after having had a molar pulled, at 9:45 p.m., who came out to vote.

Bishel voted with directors Tore Noren and Arthur L. Crebassa to assess each lot. Directors Robert D. Smith and Bruce Gillette took the other approach. A hearing will be set to get citizens' views on the matter and, following that, the board will make a final decision.

The board also approved plans for the district's new office to be built on Bell Lane.

Salesman Sought As Ad Con Artist

San Rafael police were looking today for a man who sold advertising to at least three local merchants last June and then disappeared with their money.

The man was described as five feet, eight inchdes tall, of medium build, dark haired and 40 to 45 years old.

He called on local merchants, identifying himself as A. V. Blane of Success Associates, Pacifica, and sold them space on a revolving clock, taking checks ranging from $30 to $35.

Businesses which have reported being sold advertising by the man were Jade Cleaners, 175 Belvedere Street, Santa Brothers Auto Repair, 45 Vivian Way, and Albert's Transmission, 81 Hoag Avenue.

terior and its subsidiary Bureau of Mines.

San Francisco Bay is a "natural" for the mining study project, because it is centrally located, Crawford said. He said scientific vessels can use Tiburon as a base to range the Pacific Coast from Alaska to Baja, California.

He said the base now employs 20 to 25 persons, federal workers and men from the Lockheed Missile and Space Division and International Mining and Minerals Co., joint participants in the program. "I would like to have 100 to 150 people . . . Perhaps some day the base could be connected with a university program," the official added.

Lockheed spokesman C. G. Welling, a retired Navy captain, spoke and displayed slides describing the research base's mission in exploring location and recovery techniques to obtain minerals, fertilizers and other raw materials which the United States must now import.

Hammer Beating Suspect Ordered Held To Answer

J. D. Jones, 30, was bound over to Marin Superior Court today in preliminary hearing by Municipal Court Judge Leonard A. Thomas in the Oct. 20 hammer-assault of Jones' estranged wife, Mary L., in Marin City.

The woman remained unconscious and in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital, the ninth day since she suffered extensive head injuries in the attack.

Jones is charged with assault with intent to murder after allegedly arguing with the woman over custody of their 3-year-old son, James Davis Jones, in a parking lot near the home of the victim's mother, Mrs. Ola B. McLin, 243 Drake Avenue.

He is being held in lieu of $22,000 bail. Filing of an information on the charge is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Monday in the Superior Court.

Jones is represented by Peter Allen Smith, public defender. W. L. Mackey, deputy district attorney, prosecuted at the preliminary hearing.

White also advised the San Francisco-Marin crossing committee that the state legislature would probably not approve an amendment to the bridge district act unless the district could show reserves equal to the 20 million dollars in bonds still outstanding and five million dollars owed to the state.

CLEVE SHAFFER

Funeral services for inventor Cleve R. Shaffer, 79, of San Francisco, whose design for a bay span from Marin to Alcatraz to San Francisco was one of many of his visions, were held yesterday in San Francisco.

He died Tuesday after a long illness.

Shaffer, a pioneer in aviation and jet fuel development, was also a poet and glider enthusiast.

He was among the early experimenters in aviation, forming the first aerial reserve unit at Tanforan in 1909, developing liquid fuel rockets, and being the first airplane manufacturer on the West Coast. His experiments with rockets were conducted on a Marin beach 32 years ago.

He designed an armored combat tank in 1914. It was turned down by both the German government and the U.S. Army. In 1937, however, the German army ordnance magazine said the war might have had another outcome if Germany had adopted the tank.

Shaffer published a collection of poems in 1960 entitled "The Idiot Hops in the Night."

Supreme Court Refuses To Hear Equal Time Beef

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to convene before election day to hear arguments demanding equal television-radio time for Sen. Barry M. Goldwater to reply to an Oct. 18 speech of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The court's refusal, announced last night, means that there is no chance that the Republicans will win their legal battle to get the time for Goldwater before next Tuesday.

The Federal Communications Commission has ruled that the president's speech was a report to the nation on international developments and not a campaign speech. The ruling said the three television networks, which gave the air time to the president, were not required to do the same for the Republican presidential candidate.

In a tie vote, the U.S. Court of Appeals allowed the FCC ruling to stand. The Republicans then asked the Supreme Court to take up the case quickly—before election day.

The court, which is not scheduled to hear any more cases until Nov. 9, refused.

Others will have them later in the season. Why wait? Latest Fall styles for the well dressed man

DIXIE 'FREEDOM PROJECTS'

Bigger Plans Next Year Despite 'Sea Of Hate,' Speaker Says

By FRANK FARRARA

There are plans to have 3,000 to 5,000 students working on Freedom Projects in several southern states next year, according to Keith Chamberlain of the Presbyterian campus ministry at University of California at Berkeley.

Chamberlain spoke last night at San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo as a member of a panel discussing civil rights activities in Mississippi.

He expected there would be expansion of freedom projects as the outgrowth of the Mississippi Freedom Project, started last summer.

About 900 students worked on the project last summer and about 200 are still there, he said.

The other member of the two-man panel was Dwain Epps, a seminary student who served as a supply pastor in Columbia, Miss., last summer.

Both speakers presented a dim view of life in Mississippi and the role of Mississippi churches in the civil rights field.

Chamberlain, who worked on the project last summer, described Mississippi as "a foreign land."

There is hate propaganda around all the time, said Epps. "It's so hard to escape from the sea of propaganda."

"It isn't news if a Negro is killed," Chamberlain said. "We wouldn't have heard about the three civil rights workers, if two had not been white."

Epps said as far as civil rights are concerned, the white church in Mississippi "is not doing anything for the most part." Ministers who take even a mild civil rights stand are threatened and many leave the state in frustration, Epps said. He cited a case where 23 ministers signed a statement on civil rights; only four are still in Mississippi, he said.

Chamberlain said many Negro churches in Mississippi are not committed to civil rights because "intimidation has been successful."

Epps said it was amazing how "oblivious" the whites were to the burning of Negro churches until the latter part of the summer when burnings became more frequent.

"They figured . . . 'It's propaganda' . . . or 'So what' . . . or 'It's not here,'" he said.

Both speakers agreed that the passage of the civil rights bill has not had a broad effect on Mississippi, but said there was rapid integration in some hotels, motels and restaurants.

Chamberlain said "the federal government has not done the job it could do."

Epps said one effect of the act has been to make some residents realize "that the battle is lost," and gave them "a sudden awareness that what they've been saying isn't going to happen."

Chamberlain reviewed the work of the Freedom Project, including voter registration, Freedom schools and community centers.

One of the most revolutionary projects is that to inform the lower income white families that their goals are the same as the goals of the Negroes, he said. "It's hard to do."

Only about 25 persons attended the discussion, moderated by Conrad Knudsen. Two scheduled speakers, William Clay, a Mississippian studying at College of Marin, and Rev. Donald Schilling, pastor of St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City, were unable to attend.

Belgrade To Buy Goods From U.S.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—The United States agreed today to sell Communist Yugoslavia 40.5 million dollars worth of agricultural surplus products under the Food for Peace program.

Agreements signed here provide for the sale of 500,000 tons of wheat and 12,000 tons of tallow.

According to a U.S. congressional decision which barred Yugoslavia from paying in local currency, Yugoslavia will pay in dollars.

Our best salesmen are our customers.

When they're happy with the way we move them, they usually tell someone else about us.

It's nice to get business this way, and no one could appreciate it more than we do. But there is one small drawback.

We have to live up to all the good things that people say about us.

We have to make every move just as good as the last one. Or the one last week. Or the one last month.

To do this we have to have a lot of good moving men. If we had only a few, and saved them for the big jobs, we'd be in trouble.

So we are very careful about the men we pick to be Bekins moving men. And once we've accepted them, we give them a great deal of training. We like to think that our men are the best in the moving business. We like to feel that they're capable, understanding, careful. Everything that a moving man ought to be. And then some.

The proof that our men live up to our expectations is this: we get about 40% of our business from people who have been moved by us before, plus another 20% from people who are recommended to us.

Which means that lots of our customers are coming back a second and a third and a fourth time.

McINNIS SPARS WITH LEYDECKER

Supervisor Sees Untruths Spread

Said Leydecker: "The mayor must be so driven by personal political ambition and so limited by a record of ineffective action in government that his only recourse is to attempt to destroy a fellow human being with lies."

The incumbent supervisor (who was appointed to the board in July, 1963) accused McInnis of "talking, not accomplishment."

He quoted McInnis' campaign statement in 1959 in which he promised to "direct full development of our industrial potential, our business district facilities and our residential areas."

Five years later, nothing has been done by McInnis to fulfill these promises, Leydecker asserted.

The supervisor said McInnis' only contribution in the field of industrial development has been a "dog in the manger criticism of the foreward-looking, county-inspired Stanford Research Institute study."

Leydecker said the mayor has fought a state moratorium on bay filling prior to planning, and that San Rafael now has plans to develop the largest percentage of its tidelands of any city in the West.

Leydecker also claimed that McInnis said he was running for supervisor because he had "finished everything I planned for San Rafael." Leydecker asked listeners if they feel the traffic situation in San Rafael shows a completion of a job well done.

Leydecker then listed as his own accomplishments as supervisor:

Countywide road development plan, long-term capital improvements needs and financing plan, Marin Transit District, increased emphasis on land use planning, low-rent housing for elderly, tax reform, community mental health facilities, increased cooperation among various units of local government, strengthened role of county administrative officer, minority employment and training program and attracting light industry.

Mayor Charges 'Assassination'

Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael yesterday charged his opponent in the race for first district supervisor, Byron W. Leydecker, with attempts at "character assassination" of McInnis and other San Rafael city officials.

In a speech on radio station KTIM, McInnis said recent advertisements in the Independent-Journal and letters to voters from "Leydecker and his crew" are "a desperate move to bolster a failing campaign."

Answering charges that "hoodlumism and vandalism exist in some parts of San Rafael," McInnis asked the incumbent Leydecker why he chose to live in San Rafael.

As for charges of "juggling" finances, the mayor quoted Halvor D. Clinker, certified public accountant who makes the annual audit of the city's books, as saying that San Rafael is in "excellent fiscal condition." The charges of juggling finances merely prove that Leydecker knows little or nothing about municipal finance, the mayor declared.

McInnis called Leydecker a "young and inexperienced . . . Johnny come lately," who made the charges with disregard for ethics, propriety and good judgment.

He said the charges reflect on the integrity of Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, finance Officer W. Lynn Morgan, auditor Clinker, and City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen.

The mayor also defended his actions on filling of tidelands and marshlands in southeastern San Rafael.

Assuming that Leydecker was referring to his common business interest with Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner, who also owns some tidelands property, McInnis said the two facts are completely unrelated.

A group of tidelands property owners recently asked city council for some changes in uses allowed for tidelands and the council and McInnis turned the property owners down, McInnis said.

The mayor added that Leydecker's personal and business background offer "rich opportunities" for attack.

McInnis said he will not "stoop to petty trickery and lies" in his campaign.

Leydecker-McInnis Race Is 'Sudden Death' Contest

The race between Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker and Mayor John F. McInnis will be a "sudden-death" contest, unlike the other supervisorial races.

Normally, a supervisor, even if he is defeated on Tuesday, will remain in office through the end of December, his successor taking over on Jan. 1.

However, the case of Leydecker is an exception because he was appointed in July of last year by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to fill the vacancy created by the death of Walter R. Castro. The appointment was "until the next general election."

The moment that Leydecker or McInnis is declared elected after the official canvass, the winner takes his seat on the Board of Supervisors, to serve the remainder of Castro's term, which expires Dec. 31, 1966.

Since the official canvass is Nov. 5, and the next meeting of the supervisors falls on Nov. 10, County Clerk George H. Gnoss said the winner will probably be seated on Nov. 10.

The present terms of the other incumbent supervisors, William D. Fusselman, George H. Ludy, and Peter H. Behr (unopposed), will continue through Dec. 31. Challengers Ernest N. Kettenhofen and Thomas T. Storer, even if they defeat the incumbents, will not be sworn in until next January.

Manslaughter Case In Court

Preliminary hearing of auto manslaughter and felony drunk driving charges against attorney Thomas J. Barfield of Bolinas was to continue in Santa Rosa Municipal Court today.

California Highway Patrolman Thomas J. Johnston was on the stand when the hearing recessed at close of its first day yesterday.

Barfield, who lives on Lauff Ranch Road, Bolinas, pleaded innocent to the charges Oct. 13.

The highway patrol alleges that Barfield was driving the wrong way in the southbound lane of Highway 101 near Petaluma when his car collided with another, killing a 45-year-old Santa Rosa woman, on Sept. 27.

No Session

The Novato Fire District board did not meet last night because of lack of a quorum, said Fire Chief George Cavallero.

Brown Says Special Election May Be Called If Prop. 14 Is Passed

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Edmund G. Brown raised the possibility today of calling a special election if the voters approve Proposition 14, the housing initiative, in Tuesday's election.

The governor, at a Sacramento Airport news conference, also predicted President Lyndon B. Johnson will carry California by one million votes.

He made the same prediction in 1960 about the late President John F. Kennedy, who lost the state to Richard M. Nixon by 35,000.

Brown said it might be necessary to call a special election on the housing initiative because its passage could cut off federal urban renewal and redevelopment funds for California.

The measure would nullify anti-discrimination in housing laws and prevent the legislature and local governments from enacting such statutes in the future.

Brown, stopping briefly in Sacramento on his way from Southern California to the Pacific Northwest for campaign speeches, also:

1. Said the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. should call off its plans to build an atomic power plant at Bodega Head if there is any question about safety.

"If a minority say it would be unsafe, let's get out of it," he said.

2. Promised to unveil an administration farm labor program after the election. He said it would be his solution to the problems raised by the end of the program of importing Mexican nationals to California to harvest the crops.

3. Predicted Sen. Pierre Salinger, Democrat, would win election by 500,000 votes over Republican foe George Murphy.

Yesterday, Salinger said Murphy and Goldwater are against everything Democratic—our foreign policy, our domestic policy, our fiscal policy. But when you ask them what they would do differently—when you ask them for specific proposals on Vietnam or medical care for the elderly . . . they throw up their hands and shrug their shoulders."

Meanwhile, Republican Secretary of State Frank Jordan again contended that Salinger's candidacy is illegal. He said that the State Supreme Court's refusal to keep Salinger off the June 2 primary ballot was politically inspired.

Murphy told a Los Angeles audience that even President Johnson agrees that desalinization of sea water is the best way to solve state water problems.

But, Murphy said, Salinger "has set silent on desalinization and even ridiculed my recommendation that salt water conversion is the eventual and long-range answer to California's water problem."

On another front, Negro leader and Nobel Peace Prize winner Rev. Martin Luther King said in Los Angeles that passage of Proposition 14 on the Nov. 3 ballot "would be a great blow at the cause of freedom."

Rapid Transit Route Gets Highway Appro

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Division of Highways gave preliminary approval yesterday to a plan to locate a six-mile portion of the Bay Area Rapid Transit network within the median strip of State Route 24 in central Contra Costa County.

It also authorized negotiations to work out technical details for the route, which would be situated between Orinda and Walnut Creek. It would be part of the Bay Area's 75-mile rapid transit network.

we need a successful marin county businessman on the board of supervisors!

Ernest N. Kettenhofen has had a successful career — not only as a businessman who owns and manages an industrial building in Sausalito and an apartment house in San Anselmo, but also as a rancher in Lake County, and a resort owner in Lake Tahoe.

Ernest N. Kettenhofen has had an exciting career—as a ship captain who saw action with the Maritime Service in Africa, Europe, and the South Pacific, and as a civic leader who has received considerable recognition for his achievements in community life.

Here are only a few of the many responsible, volunteer community services he has engaged in:

President, Board of Directors, Marin General Hospital District; Citizen Advisory Board, College of Marin, and College of Marin Foundation; Chairman, Mental Health Facilities Committee, Marin Mental Health Association; Board of Governors, California Maritime Academy; Marin Senior Citizens Coordinating Council; and San Anselmo chapter, American Field Service.

Dedicated to preserving Marin's natural beauty, determined to provide the responsive, energetic, dedicated leadership which the residents of the Second District deserve, acting positively to cut costs, lessen the tax burden and improve services, Ernest N. Kettenhofen is the man most qualified for the office of Supervisor.

North Viets Charge New U.S. Attacks

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam charged Friday "air and naval craft of the U.S. and its agents" again bombed and shelled North Vietnamese territory.

But in Washington, U.S. defense officials said they had received no word of any such attacks as were claimed by North Vietnam.

Radio Hanoi, in a broadcast monitored here, said the announcement was made by a spokesman of the North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry in a statement issued Thursday. It said:

"At 1000 hours of Oct. 28, 1964, three jet planes and five T28 aircraft of the United States, coming from the direction of Laos, bombed and rocketed the Cha Lo frontier post, which is situated in the Democratic Republic of Vietnam territory in Quang Binh Province, at a place two kilometers (1.2 miles) from the Vietnam-Laos border."

It added: "At 2300 hours (11 p.m.) of the same day, three naval craft of the United States and its agents, sailing from South Vietnam, intruded into the territorial waters of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam, shelled the coastal areas of Quang Binh Province and subsequently fled."

North Vietnam said "these are brazen acts of aggression and constitute most serious violations of the 1954 Geneva agreements on Vietnam and the 1962 Geneva agreements on Laos."

"The bombing and shelling raids of Oct. 28, 1964, prove that the U.S. imperialists are still stubbornly carrying on provocations against Democratic Republic of Vietnam in an attempt to carry out their scheme to 'expand the war to North Vietnam in complete defiance of international law and world public opinion.'"

Timber Taxes On State Agenda

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The State Board of Forestry will meet in Sacramento Nov. 10 and its agenda will include a discussion of possible severance taxes on timber production and taxes on timber land.

The board will hear a report on the State Senate fact-finding committee on natural resources held in Santa Barbara Oct. 15.

The Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee heard testimony, mostly opposition, to a severance tax several weeks ago.

THE RISING TIDE

1010 B Street
San Rafael, California

Dear Fellow Democrat:

Permit me to introduce myself as a life-long member of the Democratic Party, as was my father before me.

All good Americans are more deeply involved with this crucial election than ever before. For the future of your family and our country, please consider the following questions:

How do you feel about the removal of prayer from schools?

How do you feel about Bobby Baker, Billie Sol Estes and now Walter Jenkins?

How do you feel about the ADA (Americans for Democratic Action—H. H. Humphrey founding member) which advocates recognition for Red China, Cuba; unilateral disarmament and one-world government?

How do you feel about millions and millions of your tax dollars being sent to Communist countries?

How do you feel about the riots and street demonstrations from the Berkeley campus to New York City?

I reserve my right to remain a Democrat. I believe that I have not left the party—the party has deserted me.

Now is the time for all Americans to come to the aid of their Country. Join the rising tide of Democrats who are working and voting for Barry Goldwater, an honest, loyal American.

Sincerely yours,
Clifford P. Ostrem

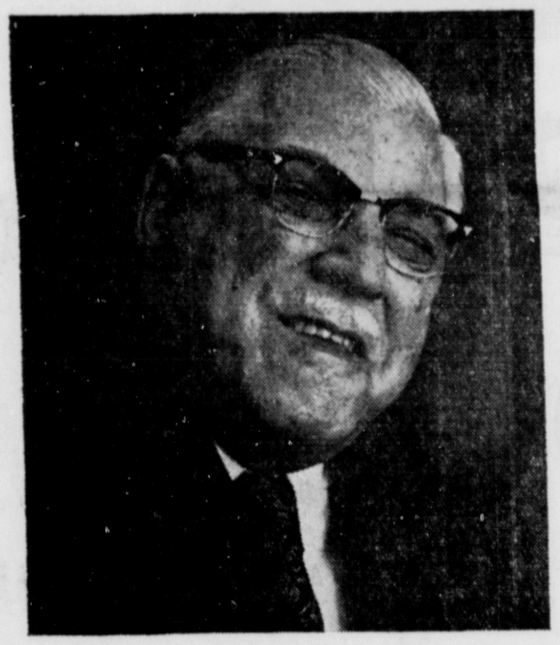
Memo from Bill Fusselman

"These things are important to you . . ."



When my opponent first announced his intention to run for Supervisor, scores of people urged me to file again for reelection. They stated forcefully that they didn't believe his method of operating . . . his approach . . . would be to the best interests of the County.

You are heavily involved financially, as you must know. This is a special . . . unique type of operation. Wheeler-dealer operations are not safe.

Consider yourself as a partner in this going business . . . as you most certainly are. Using the assessed value, for computing, you have a book value of ½ billion dollars in this business of yours (and this is only 23% of market value) with an annual cost of operating of 21½ million dollars.

When a man asks to be hired, for one of the top jobs, don't you think he should make a frank, open statement of his past history to you? Would you hire a man in a private business of this magnitude simply on the presentation of a bright engaging smile or a request in the mail to be hired? Ask yourself this.

You know about me. I have been in plain view day in and day out. HE has continuously avoided an honest answer as to just WHAT BUSINESS he has been in which makes him a "Successful Businessman". The following will give you the general idea. You most certainly should know about these things.

Early in the year he sent me a facsimile copy of a typed sheet of paper with his card attached. He sent it by a friend of mine whom he knows. The card identified his business as "Investment Properties". This means LAND SPECULATOR. This paper had a heading, "Independent-Journal" . . . on the next line "January 26, 1955" . . . then a caption . . . "PROBATION, $100 FINE FOR KETTENHOFEN". Then the following: "Novato Developer, Ernest N. Kettenhofen, found guilty on one count of Real Estate Law Violation was fined $100 and placed on probation in Marin Municipal Court this week. Judge N. Charles Brusatori suspended imposition of sentence and placed Kettenhofen on one year probation on condition that he (1) Pay $100 fine, and (2) cease from any further violation of any order of the Real Estate Commissioner and not violate Subdivision laws of the State, County or Municipality. (3) Conduct himself in a law abiding manner."

Then further down this follows: "NOTE: On October 3, 1956 in the Marin Municipal Court, the above matter was again brought before the Court. The charge of guilty of resubdividing without notifying the Real Estate Commissioner was dropped and the matter was expunged from the records." Section 1203.4 of the Penal Code provides that any . . . "defendant who has fulfilled the conditions of his probation for the entire period thereof . . . if he has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, the Court shall set aside the verdict of guilty and shall thereon dismiss the accusation against such defendant". DISMISSING THE CHARGES CANNOT REMOVE WHAT REALLY HAPPENED.

You can go to the Municipal Court files and find such entries as these . . . (some civil actions against my opponent).

Louis Buzzini vs. Kettenhofen . . . Civil Case #6416 charging that Kettenhofen owed him $662 balance due on cattle purchased etc.

Pearson Yacht Co. vs Kettenhofen . . . Civil Case #18166 . . . suit for $2791 . . . for labor and material . . . countersuit for $3200, saying boat unseaworthy . . . dismissed Dec. 31, 1962 . . . could have been a compromise

In Small Claims Court:
June 20, 1962 . . . Bess L. Marion vs Kettenhofen #7617 . . . suit to collect refund of $25.00.

August 26, 1955 . . . Fred C. Nave vs Kettenhofen for $35 . . . settled out of Court after having been set for trial.

These few should give you the general idea.

You will recall that ten years ago he tried to get the County to build a road through some 1500 acres he owned west of Carson Dam at Kent Lake. I have stayed away from any land speculation while I have been Supervisor. It is too easy to be involved in a conflict of interest.

He has also been piously making a pitch for parks on the banks of the creek running through Ross Valley. 25 years ago I advocated park sites along the creek where his associates have now built apartments right down to the creek on the west side. This is just north of the bridge in San Anselmo. Go take a look at what his associates are DOING NOW on the east side (next to Maggi's Florist Shop). They are building OVER the creek now, WITH PILES DOWN INTO THE CREEK BED. Will that cause trouble at flood time!!

Friends of mine are reporting back to me the line he is giving them at their doors. He changes his story to fit the occasion. That was the technique before radio . . . no more . . . there must be one story and one only. In addition to "absenteeism" . . . "negativism" and the false accusation on the road matter, he has also been saying "Bill will get his retirement pay if he is defeated. He will be taken care of all right". The fact is I am not a member of the system. I will not receive a pension unless I pay more than $7000 in back assessments into the fund. I would then get about $212 per month. The story is also used that the only reason I am running is so I can stay for two years and get a pension. The fact is that were I to be reelected and join the system and had deductions for 24 months taken out of an $800 salary I would be eligible for $38 per month. While we are on the subject were I not reelected the $3000 from group life insurance would be cancelled as would the CPS hospital benefits I now am entitled to through contributions to the group fund. I have never checked on the cost of conversion in either case; probably would be exorbitant.

Sincerely,
Bill Fusselman

Police Athletic Group Is Officially Formed

The Marin Police Athletic League was officially formed last night in Sausalito by eight law enforcement officers.

Its purpose is to provide a common meeting ground for peace officers and youth of Marin County, in the area of sports and supervised activities, and thereby foster and encourage faith in American principles and the traditions of good sportsmanship, good will and friendship, said Herbert Smith., Sausalito policeman who was elected president.

League founders agreed to solicit support at once from citizen groups and said they would like to hear citizens in Marin express their views relative to the league.

Officers are now organizing a boosters club, a parallel to the club in San Francisco, to enlist people to give assistance.

Initial cost for membership will be $1. There will be no annual dues. Full membership will be limited to peace officers as defined in the state penal code.

Directors are Harvey E. Teague, county juvenile officer; Donald E. Midyett, chief criminal investigator for the district attorney; Robert Coppock, Belvedere patrolman; Kenneth H. Huck, Sausalito police chief, and Smith.

Next meeting of the league will be at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 11 either at the Sausalito Police Department or at the Sausalito Library where the organization met last night.

HE'S TIRED OF ELEPHANTINE WISE CRACKS

The man, a certified public accountant residing at 504 Sausalito Boulevard, has filed a petition in Marin Superior Court to have his name changed to George Frederic Lefont.

The present name, his petition declares, sounds like the animal, "elephant," and has subjected him to "comments, jokes and ridicule" throughout his life.

The proposed name, he added, will correct the problem. Order to show cause why the name shouldn't be changed was scheduled by Judge Thomas F. Keating for 2 p.m., Dec. 7.

M. Gustave Eiffel built himself an apartment above the Eiffel Tower's top public platform where he studied aerodynamics and entertained such celebrities as Thomas Edison, Edward VII and Sarah Bernhardt. He credited his long life (he died at 91) to the fine, high air he breathed there.

Hub Parking Lot Landscape Plans Gain Joint Approval

Preliminary plans for landscaping of the Hub parking area were approved last night at a joint meeting of the San Anselmo Planning and Parks and Recreation Commissions.

The plan provides for a 92-space parking area on the old Greyhound bus depot site, to be surrounded by landscaping with a small park at one end.

The landscaping around the parking area would be five feet deep, with drought-resistant trees and plants. The park would be located near Tunstead Avenue, and would include trees and benches. There would also be a pedestrian walkway along Corte Madera Creek.

The parking area would have strips of landscaping between rows of parking spaces.

Planning commissioner Jerry W. Lloyd and Parks and Recreation commissioner Katherine Pringle voted against the plan, saying that parking spaces should be reduced to 84, making more room for the small park.

The commissions also heard a request from Greyhound Bus Lines that a small depot be included in the plan. This proposal will be discussed at the planning commission meeting Nov. 16.

Another proposal, for a sign pointing out the business district, will be considered as the plans progress.

SEVEN REASONS
Why We Will Vote For

TOM STORER

1. Tom Believes in Planning.
He will protect West Marin from land speculators, cheap commercialization, honky-tonks. He will appoint an independent Planning Commissioner.
2. He will fight high utility rates, bad service.
His record shows Tom is a fighter for improved water service. He will not turn his back when towns like Inverness fight water-rate grabs, or Point Reyes Station seeks service improvement.
3. He will stand up for agriculture.
The Supervisor for the Fourth District has a lonely fight down in San Rafael — he now represents almost all the County s remaining agriculture. Tom will be the champion of those who want to keep farming in America's first and finest industry.
4. He will represent all the citizens of West Marin . . .
. . . not just the absentee land profiteers.
5. He will fight high taxes.
The big jump in taxes in our district this year was triggered by land speculation. The land speculators aren't voting for Tom because they know he is not in their pocket. For sensible tax assessment rates, vote for Storer!
6. He will represent our District with dignity and decorum.
Tom will keep his temper, listen with courtesy to all viewpoints, join no feuding faction.
7. He is a candidate with a future.
Tom is young, vigorous, has political talent and industry. He grows daily in leadership stature. His successful fight to get into the run-off has proved that. He will give our District long-run representation. (Some of his sidelined opponents, knowing this, aren't voting for Tom).

HIS PASTURE THREATENED — Tiburoners rallied today to save the pasture off Tiburon Boulevard where this sway-backed horse has grazed for untold years. Commercial development of the property is sought; Reed School District also is eyeing it for a school site. The "committee to save the sway-backed horse pasture" wants the school, no stores. (Independent-Journal photo)

Swayback Horse's Fans Rally To Block Tide Of Commerce

Neighbors of what is known as the "swayback horse pasture" in Tiburon are rallying to save the bucolic setting from commercial development.

Reedlands Property Owners Assn. is organizing a drive which would get hard cash to buy the land on Richardson Bay and save it for public use.

Gordon W. Russell, president of the association, declined today to discuss details of the plan. He said his group prefers to wait and see if the Reed School District buys the land for an elementary school site.

Russell said the group would favor use of the land for a school.

The five acres of pasture land is one of two sites being considered for a kindergarten through sixth grade school, the other site being above Reed School.

The land, on the south side of Tiburon Boulevard near Trestle Glen Drive, is owned by Anthony L. Connell, who lives on a beached ark on the property, and Gerald F. Connell of Belmont. Representatives of the two owners last month were turned down by the Tiburon planning commission in a bid to rezone 7.43 acres of tideland offshore of the pasture from agricultural to commercial use.

Russell said that if the school district bought the pasture for a school site but did not buy the adjacent tideland, his group would "definitely" try to buy the tide lots to save them for public use.

The pasture is known for the black horse with an astoundingly swap back that has pastured there for years. Anthony Connell figures the horse must be about 50 years old.

Longest Met hitting streak went 13 games. It was accomplished by bonus first baseman Ed Kranepool, 19.

Novato Given Assurance On Freeway

The State Division of Highways will consider purchasing right of way for the freeway bypass through Novato as soon as possible, J. C. Womack, state highway engineer, told a Novato delegation yesterday.

Mayor Robert D. Carrow, City Administrator J. Julien Baget and Public Works Director Lawrence A. Coleman asked the highway division if it could proceed immediately with the right of way acquisition for the bypass east of the business district.

Womack said that now that the division of highways has the amended freeway agreement with the city, it can proceed with the purchase.

He said there are funds in the 1964-65 budget to buy land to protect the state against developments in proposed rights of way.

Womack said that Novato was in competition with San Rafael for funds for completion of its bypass and viaduct. He cited the traffic count of 60,000 cars per day in San Rafael against the 25,000 cars per day in Novato as being in San Rafael's favor.

San Rafael Rec Body Favors Boat Ramp

San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission recommended last night that the city build a boat launching ramp on its property bordering the San Rafael Canal.

The commission made the recommendation after considering a petition from several boat enthusiasts, referred to the commission by the council.

It recommended that the council find out whether the state Wildlife Conservation Board would make funds available for the project. Members believed the board would pay full costs for a ramp and floats, parking facilities and toilets. This would take about an acre and one-half of land.

The city owns several parcels of land along the canal, including the corporation yard, which could be considered, the commission said.

The commission gave approval for a judo training program for boys aged 7 to 12 years, to be conducted by Delmo Esposti at the San Rafael Recreation Center, starting in mid-November.

The commission also chose member Irwin Taranto as its representative on the Marin County Board of Supervisors' advisory committee on recreation for the handicapped.

Two Boys Cited In Theft Of Beer Can

Two Mill Valley boys, both 14, were cited to juvenile hall on petty theft charges yesterday by police after Gary Walahan, assistant manager of the Top Hat Market, reported that one had placed a can of beer in his raincoat pocket while the other stood by.

The incident at the market at Miller and Evergreen avenues was reported at 4:42 p.m.

Mowing Of Lawn Stalls Labor Pact

A company foreman cut the lawn after the union had refused to let its gardeners across the picket lines to do their job during the month-long, nationwide G.M.-United Auto Workers showdown.

Up until Tuesday, peace talks were moving along smoothly. But when union representatives arrived Tuesday and saw the cut grass, they insisted that the four union gardeners be paid for a full day's work. GM officials refused.

Police Ready For Halloween Night

own five patrol cars and another seven normally used by the city manager and other aides.

While radios in these cars have their own separate frequency, DiGrazia said his "army" will be able to talk back and forth between the two frequencies to maintain contact.

Further assistance has been promised by the Hamilton Air Force Base Air Police, whose jurisdiction includes Hamilton Village, by the Tamalpais Radio Club, whose members will cruise the city in their own cars and will keep in touch with a base station at police headquarters, and by firemen.

In San Rafael, which also had a wild Halloween last year, at least 10 two-man cars with three-way radio and a dozen unmarked cars with one-way radio will be patrolling the streets. There will also be 12 uniformed and plainclothes officers patrolling the downtown area on foot.

Chief Charles J. Chiesa said that all state, county and city ordinances will be strictly enforced and a juvenile officer will be stationed at headquarters to investigate every arrest.

Mill Valley police will have 18 men patrolling in four cars and on foot, according to Police Chief Dan Terzich. Members of the force also will oversee the annual community celebration and booths downtown, and a few reserves will maintain order at private parties.

Ross Police Chief Joseph J. Regoni said his three regular patrolmen will be supplemented by seven to nine reserves, and the force will add a third, radio-equipped car to its two regular patrol cars.

Larkspur Police Department will assign six men, including two reserves, to three or four cars.

Some chiefs, such as Sausalito's Kenneth J. Huck, were hestitant to spell out too many details, saying they did not wish to aid the "enemy" by warning him what to look out for.

San Anselmo police will have four two-man cars, plus the city's motorcycles, on duty, and one man will be stationed at each city school where parties are scheduled, according to Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

Marin County Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said he would have "every available unit" in action, so that 12 cars could patrol the county with two men in each car. Reserve deputies also will be out in force, he said.

San Rafael, Larkspur and Fairfax also will have extra patrolmen working, in hopes of preventing a recurrence of the teen-age egg throwing contest which caused many cities grief last year. Belvedere, which usually has one patrolman on Saturday nights, will have eight.

One city, however, plans no special precautions.

Corte Madera Police Chief Frank L. Nelson said he will have only the regular number of men working Saturday night.

"We have been lucky the last three or four years," he commented. "I hope our luck doesn't run out."

Hospital Probed In Child's Death

OAKLAND (UPI)—Police investigated today the death of 17-month-old Jimmie T. McDonald who slowly died from an overdose of pills while his father frantically called Highland Hospital, only to be told to "watch the boy."

The criminal investigation was ordered yesterday after a coroner's autopsy established that the boy died of poisoning by consuming a prescription pain killer, neocyclate.

He phoned the hospital and was told to "watch the boy."

Barry Sees Upset; Hits Red Backing

COMBINED AP & UPI

Sen. Barry Goldwater kicked off a Pennsylvania whistle-stop tour today, asserting "millions of unhappy, disgusted Americans across this country" will produce the country's biggest political upset Tuesday.

The Republican presidential nominee said some people claim he has "just about given up" in his battle against President Lyndon B. Johnson.

But he said there is no truth in that.

He launched his third railroad tour of the campaign after toughening his presidential challenge with a charge that Democrats have Communist backing and haven't repudiated it.

The Arizona senator opened his campaign day before a Harrisburg crowd estimated at more than 8,000.

Goldwater set a tough tone for his whistle-stop tour, demanding that the Democratic candidates disavow the Communist Party's drive to "smash Goldwaterism."

Intensifying his attack on Johnson, Goldwater also criticized the nation's press for often echoing the Communist line as outlined by the "Worker." He said Communist publications were "pulling for the defeat of Republican candidates. He also chided clerics who, he said, neglect moral problems for politics.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Lewistown, Pa., Goldwater accused Johnson of using "cheap and degrading tricks . . . smear" to misrepresent his views on Social Security. He said he voted for Social Security bills five times since 1954.

Goldwater's comments on the Communist Party were made yesterday at Oshkosh, Wis., in the area which once gave strong support to the anti-Communist campaigns of the late GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

He complained that churchmen "do not have much time" for the question of morality if they are involved in politics.

He began his comments on the Communists, and—as it developed, the press—by saying that the GOP and GOP candidates have been "attacked by extremists for not outlawing extremism." He said he always enjoys that sort of talk and flourished a copy of The Worker—once the Daily Worker—which is the Communist Party's official organ.

"It says 'Smash Goldwaterism.' I haven't heard a Democratic candidate yet say that he doesn't want the Communist Party working for him . . ."

In a letter yesterday Goldwater accused Democrats of not being concerned enough about the persecution of Jews in the Soviet Union.

In his letter to Grand Rabbi Levi I. Horowitz of Brookline, Mass., Goldwater said, "I deplore the obvious foot-dragging of the present administration in undertaking a full and complete airing of the wholesale discrimination and religious and cultural genocide now under way against the Jews in the Soviet Union."

Goldwater said he has the grassroots supports to produce a Republican victory Tuesday.

He said that would supplant Harry Truman's 1948 triumph over Thomas E. Dewey, as the political upset of the century.

"With about this many days to go, suddenly it occurred to me that Truman was going to beat Dewey," he said, "and all of a sudden, it has come to me that I am going to beat Johnson for the same reason."

Miller spent the night in Missoula, Mont., where he charged last night that the Democrats had injected "fear and confusion into the campaign—fear of nuclear war and fear of someone pressing the button."

If a button is pushed, "it will be pressed by a Communist, not an American," Miller said. He added that Goldwater's foreign policy is one "which would prevent the button from being pressed."

Hobo Survives Fall Under Train

TEHACHAPI (AP) — A 42-year-old Marysville man fell between the cars of a fast-moving Santa Fe freight train Wednesday night and lived to tell the story.

Clifford L. Willmon told officers he and two unidentified friends were riding a flat car near Tehachapi when they decided to jump to another car.

Willmon fell between the cars, but managed to hang on until his companions grabbed his hands. They held him for several minutes as his feet and legs bounced on the railroad ties, but finally had to let go.

Ike Leave Hospital But Campaigning Is Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower left Walter Reed General Hospital today sufficiently recovered to travel, but saying he is still not well enough for any further political campaigning.

Eisenhower, 74, checked out of the Army hospital looking ruddy and smiling but still on antibiotics. He had been under treatment there since last Thursday for a respiratory infection that left him almost voiceless for a time.

Doctors said he has a lingering infection in one sinus and one ear, and they have advised him to seek a warmer climate for a few weeks. So he is leaving tomorrow for Augusta, Ga., one of his favorite golfing locales.

Talking with reporters as nearly 200 hospital staff members and patients cheered him, Eisenhower said he was "certainly feeling a lot better than I did last Thursday when I came here."

The illness will rule out any more campaigning for him, the Republican former chief executive said, but added that the newsmen knew who would get his vote. He has endorsed Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Murphy Endorsed

COMBINED AP & UPI

President Lyndon B. Johnson said today he has received a heartening pledge from the new Soviet premier that the Soviet Union will "maintain its own search for peace with the West."

In a speech, prepared for delivery in the historic Mormon Tabernacle at Salt Lake City, Utah, Johnson said the United States "must work to guide the inevitable changes that lie ahead" in Communist countries.

Johnson made an overnight stop in Salt Lake City in order to breakfast with David O. McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) and to speak in the church's tabernacle.

Other appearances were planned today in Wichita, Kan., and Philadelphia.

In his tabernacle text, Johnson said that when Nikita Khrushchev was toppled as Soviet premier, "I sent word to Moscow that our basic policy remained unchanged."

He reported that the new premier, Alexei Kosygin, has replied that "the Soviet Union would maintain its present policies and seek better relations — and maintain its own search for peace — with the West."

Johnson spent yesterday in Southern California, talking to large crowds in Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, and San Diego.

In an off-the-cuff remark he said: "The hotheads ought to go back to the bench in the hothouse."

Asked about the Walter Jenkins case, he said it was "very regretable." And he said, "practically every administration" has faced "morality problems in government."

At San Francisco yesterday, Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey predicted that Johnson will carry all but three states in next Tuesday's election.

Why did Johnson return to Southern California to campaign this week?

"Because we are not stopping until election day. The president wants to make sure that Roger Kent (state Democratic chairman of Kentfield) is right in predicting a million vote victory in California. He also wants to help elect Sen. Pierre Salinger."

At San Bernardino, police today investigated the shooting of a teen-aged youth about a half-mile from where Johnson spoke three hours earlier.

James Carlin, 15, of Rialto, was shot in the neck last night by what police said "probably was a 22-caliber bullet" as he and everal friends were returning home after seeing the president.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey paid a final campaign call on Manhattan today saying Americans will repudiate "loud-mouthed anti-Communists who would risk nuclear annihilation."

Humphrey spent two hours campaigning in the city's garment district, long a favorite vote-hunting ground.

Last night at Fairfax, Va., Humphrey sat in silence when a fellow Democrat mentioned that according to the calendar of saints, election day Nov. 3 is St. Hubert's Day.

This liturgical fact was brought to light by Augustus Johnson, the Democratic candidate for 10th District congressman, who introduced the vice presidential hopeful at a high school gymnasium rally here.

'PICKPOCKET' REACHES FOR WALLET–FINDS LBJ'S HAND

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say Ulysee Pryor reached for another man's wallet yesterday and came up holding the hand of the president of the United States.

Just as Pryor, a 30-year-old transient, was about to lift the wallet, officers said, the street crowd along the president's motorcade route shifted and pushed forward. Pryor was shoved along and his outstretched hand got a hearty shake from Lyndon B. Johnson.

Officers said they watched Pryor's activities and arrested him after he made several other unsuccessful attempts at robbery.

Nixon Says Russ Peaceful Messages Are Worthless

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon said today peaceful messages from the Kremlin to President Lyndon B. Johnson are, at the present time, "not worth the paper they are written on."

Nixon, campaigning in Illinois with GOP gubernatorial candidate Charles Percy, made his comment in response to newsmen's questions concerning a message from Russian leaders to the president.

"The new leaders of the Kremlin are going to do the same thing they've done all along," Nixon said, "we must convince the leaders in Peking and in the Kremlin that they run the risk of war if they try to advance communism."

The former vice president said "I would expect the new regime in Russia would pledge that they are for peace and then ask for credit for wheat."

"The Communists are going to talk one way and act another," Nixon said.

An open letter about Bill

PROGRESS WITH ECONOMY

As a resident of San Anselmo for the past 40 years, I have had the opportunity of observing the record of Supervisor William Fusselman as an elected public official. During his long tenure as city councilman and mayor, Bill served with courage and purpose, always with the object of serving the greatest number of people.

While serving under the "5% limitation statute" San Anselmo was the first town to install 2-way police radios. A new building was installed to house a new and improved fire alarm system. The City Hall and firehouse was enlarged and a new fire engine purchased with the thought in mind that all taxpayers are entitled to consideration and benefits, all secondary streets, such as Sequoia area, Upper Scenic, and Florabel were graded and an asphalt coat was applied.

Not only was this all accomplished under Bill's administration, but it was done with no increase in tax rate. In fact an emergency fund was set up, which later took care of San Anselmo unemployed. As councilman serving some time later I personally saw in the files and records evidence of Bill's dedication to public service.

Since serving as a Supervisor, Bill has continued to use his background and experience and study of municipal law for progress, with economy in the best interest of all, daring to stand alone if necessary, when he thinks he is right.

During these times of mounting costs and pyramiding taxes, I sincerely believe that we are fortunate in having a man such as Bill Fusselman to continue to guard our interests for another four years. Your vote for Mr. Fusselman can give us the benefit of his 30 years of experience, for which there is no substitute. Bill has no other business interests such as promotions of developments, and therefore will devote full time to the position of Supervisor, with no possibility of conflict of interest.

LBJ, Barry Partisans Both Predict Victory

Spokesmen for President Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater both predicted a Tuesday victory for their candidates in a radio debate over KTIM today.

Speaking over the "Marin Sounding Board" program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, were Elizabeth R. Gotav, Democratic national committeewoman and former U.S. Treasurer; Herbert K. Walton Jr., former vice chairman of the Marin Republican Central Committee; Alvin H. H. Goldstein Jr., Marin co-chairman for Johnson and William O. Weissich, Marin chairman for Goldwater.

A taped version of the program will be rebroadcast at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Gatov and Goldstein declared that "scurrilous" literature, some of it criticizing former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, is being distributed by Goldwater headquarters in San Francisco.

They said the Kennedy-Johnson policies are the road to peace and prosperity, and the "easy trigger finger" of Senator Goldwater poses the threat of nuclear war. "Goldwater's choice is total victory or incineration," said Goldstein.

On the other hand, Walton and Weissich declared that the Johnson policies indicate appeasement.

Weissich and Walton maintained that the current "prosperity" in this country is only a "false front" and that "national bankruptcy" is around the corner if the Johnson policies are continued.

Weissich and Walton said they cannot conceive of any Goldwater headquarters distributing any literature attacking Eisenhower.

But Goldstein asserted he had walked into the San Francisco Goldwater headquarters on Kearny Street yesterday and picked up a sheet criticizing Eisenhower. Goldstein brought a copy of it into the radio station.

Goldwater spokesmen referred to the Bobby Baker and Walter Jenkins cases as evidence of moral deterioration in the Democratic administration.

Mrs. Gatov replied that the Federal Bureau of Investigation looked into the Jenkins case and said no security risk is involved, and the Baker case is being investigated by the FBI.

Weissich replied that the Democrats have consistently covered up attempts to investigate the cases, "and that attempt to cover up is what is disturbing."

Weissich stressed the importance of the vice presidential candidates. He said Hubert H. Humphrey helped organize Americans for Democratic Action, "one of the most powerful left-wing organizations."

Mrs. Gatov said Bobby Baker was fired when the conflict of charges came out, but Rep. William Miller, who was receiving money from a felt company, was nominated for vice president by the Republicans.

Each side claimed its man is really for civil rights. Weissich said Goldwater has always worked for desegregation and civil rights, and the only civic rights bill he opposed was the last one.

Goldstein asserted that Goldwater has "flaunted decisions of the Supreme Court" on the civil rights bill and has encouraged extremists.

The Johnson spokesmen said Goldwater is against social security, but Weissich and Walton contended Goldwater is for social security.

Goldwater is against medicare only because that program would bankrupt social security, Weissich and Walton maintained.

Mrs. Gatov said the Cuban problem was inherited by President Kennedy from the Eisenhower administration, and Kennedy's firm policy prevented war.

Weissich replied that Kennedy inherited not only the problem but also the Eisenhower solution. Weissich contended that President Kennedy failed to use the Eisenhower solution, and this resulted in the Bay of Pigs incident.

The Goldwater backers repeatedly denied that Goldwater is "trigger happy." They declared that American Army commanders have had authority to use tactical nuclear weapons since 1957, and Goldwater's suggestion to that effect is nothing new. They declared that Goldwater's program is "peace through strength."

"If you have a fellow who says he will bury you, you just don't hand him a shovel," declared Walton.

Network Sues On Page Boys' Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Broadcasting Co. sued a union today for 5 million dollars for its activities since a strike by ABC page boys Tuesday.

The federal court suit named the National Assn. of Broadcast Employees and Technicians as defendant and accused the union of encouraging its ABC members since Tuesday to participate in an illegal strike.

This, the complaint contended, violates both the 1947 labor-management relations act and a no-strike provision of ABC's contract with the union.

Judge Won't Bare Charges Against Cancer Drug Pair

CHICAGO (UPI)—A U.S. District Court judge today refused to reveal whether the developer of the controversial cancer drug Krebiozen is under a federal indictment.

Solomon Friend, attorney for Dr. Stevan Durovic and his brother, Marco Durovic, asked Judge Julius J. Hoffman to open a suppressed indictment returned by a federal grand jury and say whether the Durovics were wanted men.

The judge refused. He ruled he had no right to open an indictment which had been ordered suppressed by Chief Judge William J. Campbell.

"The court saw fit to make it secret," Hoffman said. "As you stand there you don't even know whether your clients are indicted. You don't know anything."

The Durovics were not in court. Friend refused to comment on whether they would appear in court later in the day.

A federal grand jury investigating the possible interstate sale of Krebiozen returned the indictments earlier this week.

Krebiozen is manufactured in a Chicago laboratory and the Durovics make their headquarters here. Federal agents said last night they are seeking "two or more" persons named in the suppressed indictment.

Friend said "I stand before you representing Stevan and Marco Durovic. I don't know whether they are indicted but newspapers all over the country indicate they are.

"All I want is a fair hearing. My clients reached me and told me they want to do the right thing. They want to come into court properly and not be embarrassed by public arrest."

"STATE SENATOR? I'M VOTING FOR VERA SCHULTZ."

"NOT ME, BUSTER!"

"You're voting for McCarthy?"

"That's right. That's my man. He's in there solid with me. We think alike."

"How's that?"

"Well, McCarthy voted against the Rumford Fair Housing Act, and I don't believe in Fair Housing for just anybody. And he opposed the Point Reyes National Seashore, and that's okay with me 'cause I think we've got enough of that stuff already...I never go to the beach anyway."

"But McCarthy and two other senators just killed the Board of Education's request for money to buy new textbooks for the public school kids."

"Fine with me. I don't have any kids."

"McCarthy opposed increased benefits for the totally and permanently disabled and for the blind; opposed state support of child care centers; opposed increasing old age benefits by $5 per month ---"

"Sure, sure. I know that. It doesn't affect me."

"Did you know that McCarthy has not effected any constructive legislation to relieve the tax burden of Marin home owners who pay much more in taxes than developers and speculators holding unimproved land? And he's initiated no legislation to "Save the Bay" or prevent tidelands fill, instead, he wrote bills for their sale into private ownership."

"Great! I'm a developer. I'd love to buy some of the bay. I could build a great apartment house. Quick turnover."

"Have you looked into the record and background of Vera Schultz? Do you know anything about her platform?"

"I know all about her. Vera Schultz has done more for Marin County than anyone else I know. She's getting my vote."

"But you just said you were voting for McCarthy..."

"Just pulling your leg a little bit. I don't see how anyone can vote for McCarthy now that Vera Schultz is in the race. All you have to do is compare the records. Right?"

"Right!"

CRAB SEASON'S ON, BUT WHERE DID THEY GO?

Crab season opens in Marin Nov. 10, but the State Department of Fish and Game reported today that fishermen are going to have a hard time finding many of the crustaceans.

In fact, a department survey shows that it will probably be the worst season on record in the Bay Area. The department estimates a catch of only 600,000 pounds. Previous low was 707,000 pounds netted in 1961.

It is hard to predict what the price of crab will be, but you can bet it will go up over last year.

5-Car Tangle On Slick Road Injures Four

Four persons were injured at noon yesterday in a five-car rear-end collision on rain-slicked Redhill Avenue at Buena Vista Avenue in San Anselmo.

Receiving immediate medical attention were two Fairfax women, Lorraine Sabraw, 26, of 110 Wood Lane, who was reported in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital, suffering from a sprained neck, and Margaret Hawkins, 27, of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, who was treated for a mild concussion at Marin General Hospital.

Benard J. Pillus, 24, of 240 Bayview Street, San Rafael, who was cited by San Anselmo police for following another vehicle too closely. His wife, Muriel, received minor injuries but refused immediate medical attention.

Pillus told police he was changing lanes on Redhill when his car struck the rear of a vehicle driven by Katherine G. Archer, 49, of 30 Corte De Sable, Greenbrae.

The Archer car then ran into the rear of a car driven by Elizabeth Katereine Koch, 57, of 2171 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, in which Lorraine Sabraw and Margaret Hawkins were riding. The impact propelled the Koch vehicle into the rear of a car driven by Henrietta Yates Russell, 38, of Point Reyes. The fifth car involved in the accident, driven by Mortimer James Oliver, 52, of Sacramento, was hit in the rear by Mrs. Russell's vehicle.

School Colors Aiding Junior Prom Fund

Shoelaces dyed the school colors and cupcakes with tickets inside are being sold by Redwood High School's junior class this week.

The shoelaces are the work of class president Randy Homrig, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Homrig of 255 Golden Hinde Passage, Corte Madera, and the cupcakes, containing a chance to win two tickets to the "Hungry I" nightclub, were baked by junior girls.

School Board's Extra Meeting Is Cancelled

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees canceled their special meeting last night to talk about the Bolinas school building program, saying there were not enough facts available to warrant the meeting.

The board's next regular meeting is planned for Nov. 12. Nov. 11, the regular meeting date, is Veterans Day, said Mrs. Alyce Thompson, clerk.

One Positive Reaction In TB Tests

There was just one positive reaction among 270 pupils and teachers tested for tuberculosis in West Marin, the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. announced today.

The tuberculosis skin tests were given Monday and reactions were checked today. The positive reactor was a pupil at Point Reyes School.

A positive reaction means that the pupil has been exposed to tuberculosis. It does not necessarily mean that he has the disease. However, further tests will be given the pupil.

The testing program for both West Marin and Point Reyes School districts was sponsored jointly by the association and the Marin County Health Department.

Racist Meeting Egg-Tossers Held

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Eight persons were jailed last night following an egg-throwing demonstration at an organizational meeting of the San Francisco Citizens' Council at Masonic Auditorium.

About 200 persons attended the meeting, with 300 pickets outside.

The demonstrators shouted "Bigots, go home" and pelted departing cars with eggs and tomatoes. The arrested demonstrators were charged with malicious mischief.

The meeting was the first in San Francisco for the southern-state based organization. A similar organizational meeting was held in Berkeley earlier this week.

Proposition Blasted

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The State Board of Corrections today blasted Proposition 16, the general election ballot proposal that would establish a statewide lottery.

Grand Jury Indicts 3 San Quentin Men

Four indictments, including a secret one and another for the Oct. 4 stabbing of a San Quentin Prison inmate, were returned yesterday by the Marin County Grand Jury.

Tommie Venerable, 22, convicted of first degree murder in Los Angeles County in 1963, was indicted as a San Quentin lifer with the knife assault of John Calvin Scott, 28.

Scott, serving five years to life on a 1963 conviction of first degree robbery in Los Angeles County, was stabbed four times while in the prison bleachers next to the football field. He recovered.

Venerable allegedly used a home-made steel blade with taped handle and 6½-inch blade.

Thomas A. Buckley and Burton S. Kaiman, San Quentin inmates who fled the prison's ranch area Sept. 16 and were recaptured by Los Angeles police three days later, were jointly indicted for escape.

Buckley was convicted in Los Angeles County on May 25, 1960, for illegal possession of narcotics. Kaiman was convicted Feb. 18, 1963, in San Diego County for auto theft. Prison officials said the men walked off a minimum security area near dormitory construction.

James S. Neuwerth, also a San Quentin inmate, was indicted for illegal possession of a knife on Sept. 14. He was convicted June 14, 1960, of first degree burglary in Los Angeles County.

That ended the prospective deal.

Students March In Puerto Rico Over Arrests

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI)—Several hundred students marched on the capitol building in San Juan today to protest police action against a leftist-led demonstration on the university campus at Rio Piedras last night.

Nine persons were injured and 11 arrested after a night's disorders when police used clubs, tear gas and shots in the air to break up the demonstration.

Last night's rioting started when about 60 students supporting the small independence movement staged a sit-down demonstration on the campus. The demonstration exploded into violence involving several hundred persons.

Visitors to the great mosque in Washington are puzzled by the fact that its mihrab or prayer niche seems to point northeast and not towards Mecca. In scientifically orienting the mihrab toward the Moslem holy city, however, builders used the shortest distance between Washington and Mecca — the Great Circle Route.

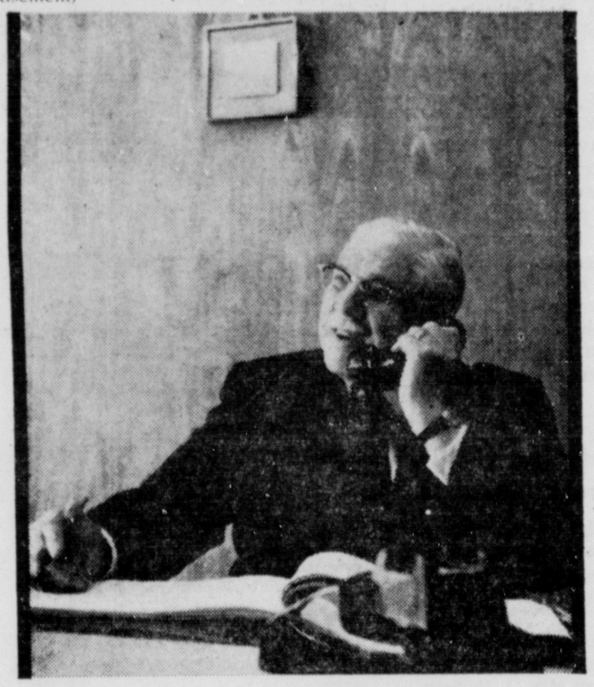
Bill Fusselman Calling



My opponent is apparently working on the theory that the public is not too well informed and can be sold most any line of promotion. His "program" list has very little in it that is not already being done.

In simple justice, I am asking you to read this partial list of things I have either initiated . . . proposed and/or worked hard for: Low rental cost homes for the elderly . . . carried the ball almost single-handed in 1960-61 . . . for years urged that the buildings at Lucas Valley Hospital and Farm be made safe from earthquake hazard . . . finally was able to have them braced . . . in 1960 personally obtained the agreement for the Veterans' organizations of the County to agree to a loan of $300,000 for Juvenile Hall expansion . . . the money has all been paid back to the fund . . .

Introduced two-way radio police cars in Marin . . . worked 5 years to get the OK on establishing a Sheriff's roving patrol system . . .

Recommended the addition of "Controller" to the Auditor's title and duties. Supported the Auditor-Controller in selling the idea of an IBM data processing installation . . .

Obtained the services of seismologist Harold Engle to prepare data for Governor Warren and Chairman Bagshaw to make presentation in Washington D.C. in a plea against installation of ammunition dump at Strawberry and vicinity . . .

Worked with U.S. Health Service in a survey of sites for the ultimate Marin General Hospital . . . worked hard on committee to bring about the formation of the Hospital district . . . as Chairman of the County Health and Welfare Committee worked for 3 years to get the Health Department building approved for Hill-Burton funds . . .

Promoted expansion of Courthouse in 1949 . . . and again in 1956-57 to take care of expanding needs without a heavy tax load in any particular year . . . worked continuously for the County Library from its inception . . .

Was Civil Defense Committee Chairman from 1942 on until end of war . . . was County Chairman for 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th war bond drives during World War II, and went over the top in every drive . . . and for 5 years attended every meeting of every description and type on County Civil Defense matters . . .

Made the first official recommendation for the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors. This was never reported in the Press . . . worked 10 years to get the Bon Air Bridge approved.

Obtained appropriation for traffic signal lights at Greenbrae in 1952, as well as all other later installations along the route . . . Laurel Grove and Sir Francis Drake . . . Wolfe Grade . . . Bon Air . . . Eliseo Drive . . .

Obtained sidewalks for school children from Kent Avenue to Estelle on College Avenue . . . and from La Cuesta to Eliseo on Sir Francis Drake . . . also opened up the inside route from La Cuesta to Eliseo . . . provided sidewalks on Wolfe Grade for the children and the overpass at the foot of Wolfe Grade . . . had the foot bridge over creek at Stadium Way reconstructed for the safety and protection of the school children . . .

Pushed for the widening of Sir Francis Drake from 101 west for four lanes as far as Wolfe Grade . . . made recommendations for getting vehicles out onto Sir Francis Drake, eastbound, from the Marin Catholic High School . . .

Obtained appropriations for right-of-way and construction of realignment of Sir Francis Drake through Fairfax and north of Fairfax . . . arranged for contributions by County of funds to help Fairfax acquire right of way for Center Street . . .

Supported the development of the Marin County Fire Department for many, many years . . . recommended a Department of Public Works for Marin County and worked for its final establishment . . .

Worked up the first agenda proceedings for the Board of Supervisors meetings in 1953. Assisted in the early stages of the development and establishment of the budget system now in operation in the County . . .

There have been many, many other important projects such as the continuous work to have the Army Engineers accept Ross Valley flood Control as a project : . . space will not permit listing them all.

Another lie being told by the opposition is that the County does not cooperate with the cities. Well, just have a look at this cooperation in highway expenditures:

AHEAD-OF-TIME VOTER

Peter Bohn (right), who moved to Sausalito 10 months ago from Austin, Tex., casts his ballot in the presidential election at the Marin County Courthouse. County Clerk George H. Gnoss (right) said his office would remain open until 9 p.m. today and during regular hours tomorrow and Monday for voting by new registrants who have not been in the state and county long enough to vote in elections other than that for president. Bohn, an attorney who lives at 230-A Woodward Avenue, said he marked his ballot for Goldwater. (Independent-Journal photo)

Broadcasters Try Again For 'Pay-TV, Radio'

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California Broadcasters Assn. once again has proposed its own peculiar form of "pay-TV and radio" by offering editorial support for the California State Fair for $20,000 a year.

The CBA, which claims membership of 150 radio and television stations in California which "reach" more than 99 per cent of the total state population, lost out on a similar bid to publicize the fair last year for $15,000.

The proposed 1965-66 budget for the State Fair, which presently is in the screening process before being adopted in the governor's budget and presented to the legislature next January, is understood not to include the CBA proposal. However, the CBA has indicated it will work to have the $20,000 item included when the budget undergoes legislative hearings.

'Lost' Harolds Club Manager Simply Got Caught In Rain

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A city wide search for Raymond I (Pappy) Smith, general manager of the world-famed Harolds Club gambling casino in Reno, was called off today when it was learned he had spent the night unregistered in a San Francisco hotel.

The 78-year-old Smith walked into the Roosevelt Hotel last night and picked up a room key in the absence of a desk clerk. Smith had been staying at the hotel for 15 years and came and left with little formality.

The clerk returned, unaware Smith was in the hotel. However, Smith departed at 9:20 this morning and handed the key to another clerk, D. J. Fitzgerald, who said, "Say, they're looking for you!"

Smith was quoted as replying "I know." He apparently thought Fitzgerald referred to his Reno office, where he was due at 10 a.m. today for a business meeting.

Smith then left for San Francisco International Airport where he boarded an airliner for Reno.

The mixup began yesterday when Smith parted from his son, Harold, at about 1 p.m. on a downtown street. He planned to take a walk in the city's Tenderloin District, have dinner and return to Harold's San Francisco apartment.

After dinner and a movie, he got caught in a rainstorm and ducked into the Roosevelt Hotel to spend the night.

Foam Problem In Sewage Is Studied

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — The foam problem in sewage plants and streams receiving discharges containing detergents may be well on the road to a solution, it was indicated here at a meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

Dr. R. D. Swisher, of the reserch department of Monsanto Chemical Co., St. Louis, said in a paper the detergent industry is spending more than $100 of new capital to solve the problem.

Sales Reported By Chris-Craft

OAKLAND — Consolidated sales of Chris-Craft Industries, Inc., and its subsidiaries for the nine months ended Sept. 30 totaled $51,214,127 and earnings after provision for federal income taxes of $1,510,000 were $1,676,593, or $1.16 a share.

For the three months ended Sept. 30, consolidated sales totaled $13,177,857 and operations resulted in a loss of $23,508, or one cent a share.

The nine months earnings of $1.16 a share in 1964 compare with 99 cents a share in 1963 (adjusted to the present outstanding shares)—an increase of 17 per cent.

Standard Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO — Standard Oil Co. of California directors today increased the company's cash dividend rate by 10 per cent, declaring a dividend for the fourth quarter of 55 cents per share of common stock. The new rate is equivalent to $2.20 a share annually, compared with the $2 a share yearly rate previously paid by the company.

Wall Street, LBJ Both Scan Steel Price Increase Rumors

Following custom, the second largest steel producer planned to report third quarter and nine-month results at the close of the New York Stock Exchange.

The steel price argument revived on new word that President Lyndon B. Johnson would take a skeptical view of any major steel price rise. That word was considered a prime factor in a stock market dip Wednesday.

Actually, the President said Aug. 8 when price rise talk was in the air that he would look upon any markup with "very serious concern" and urged steel executives to act responsibly.

But the subject is touchy, fraught with memories of the President John F. Kennedy-steel industry controversy of April 1962. At that time the industry rescinded a price increase after Kennedy objected strongly.

In Los Angeles, President Johnson was said to have figured that nine-month steel profits were up 29 per cent — although some calculations were about 20 per cent.

Leading steel executives have contended that despite a good up turn in earnings this year, the rate of return on invested capital still lags well below the average of all manufacturing industries.

The remedy, they say, is a price rise, probably on selected big tonnage finished steel products like sheets, strip and plates.

U.S. Firm Controls English Ink Company

NEW YORK — Interchemical Corp. has completed its acquisition of the controlling interest in Fishburn Printing Ink Co., Ltd., a leading printing ink manufacturer in England.

Under the final terms of the sale, Interchem acquired about 53 per cent of the shares of the English company for slightly over 6.5 million dollars in cash.

Nine-Month Sales

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—American Seating Co. sales for the first nine months of 1964 totaled $38,748,892, compared with $35,000,650 for the same period in 1963, James M. Ver Meulin, president, has announced.

Unsold Tract Homes Amount To About 15 Pct. Of Total

Unsold tract homes completed and under construction in Marin in August amounted to less than 15 per cent of the total of such homes, according to a report released by the Bay Area Council. This was below the average of seven Bay Area counties plus Sacramento which showed an 18 per cent unsold factor.

Actually there were 173 unsold homes in Marin, out of 1,149 completed and under construction.

The August survey showed an improvement over last January when 292 unsolds out of 1,158 were reported, and in June, 1963 when there were 218 out of 779.

Highest number of unsold tract homes is in Santa Clara County, 2,210 out of 10,237.

Byrne

INSURANCE MEN. Peter Byrne of Terra Linda has been appointed an agent for Allstate Insurance Companies for the San Francisco area to sell auto, homeowners, fire, health, life and other coverage. He was previously with Crocker-Citizens National Bank in San Francisco. . . . David R. St. Johnson of San Rafael has received the 1964 National Award from his company — California Western States Life.

NEW CONSTRUCTION PERMITS in Marin were down in September — about 34 per cent from August, according to the Marin County Development Assn., and once again multiple dwelling units were down in residential applications to about 21 per cent of the total.

Marin real estate loans in September were heavier than in August, but the nine months total is still behind last year's equivalent period.

But real estate sales are decidedly higher this year—with multiple listing figures showing more than 53 million dollars to Oct. 1, according to Joe H. Stewart, president of the Marin County Real Estate Board. For the entire year of 1963, the total was 57 million dollars.

THOMAS D. WOODWARD of Belvedere has been appointed district military sales manager for Pan American Airways. His territory extends from Central California to the Oregon border and includes most of Nevada.

SLIGHT ERROR. Greenbrae-Kentfield temporary branch of the Tiburon National Bank (not Bank of Tiburon) will open tomorrow at 917 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield (not Larkspur), with John J. Gallo as manager.

EARLE REALTY CO. has two new salesmen at its Corte Madera office; Mel Jung of Terra Linda and Marvin Siegal of Greenbrae.

Jung had a degree in business administration, one year of law school and four years in the Air Force before becoming a licensed real estate salesman. Siegel is attending College of Marin and majoring in real estate.

AMONG DEALERS, wives and oil company marketers from 34 states attending the 1964 Mobil Dealer Convention in Las Vegas last week were Richard and Carol Flaherty and E. F. (Bud) Monti of San Rafael, and Albin and Jewell Fowler of Bolinas.

JAMES REGALIA, sales manager for Trombetta Distributors in Marin, credits Hiram Walker, Inc. with introducing the free holiday gift wrap in 1955 and upgrading the package each year since then. This year's Canadian Club, he notes, will feature emblems and symbols of some of the world's famous restaurants. Crystal - like decanter will also be available at no extra cost.

Net Income Gain

OAKLAND — A 70 per cent gain in net income per share has been reported by Pacific Intermountain Express Co. Third quarter consolidated net income after taxes was $1,159,127, or 68 cents per share, compared to $685,102, or 40 cents per share, for the same 1963 period. The figures do not include PIE leasing, which was sold Aug. 1, 1963.

Regular Dividend

SAN FRANCISCO—The board of directors of Transamerica Corp. has declared the regular quarterly cash dividend of $1.12½ a share on the shares of the corporation's 4½ per cent convertible preferred stock, $100 par value. Frazier Won Gold Medal With Broken Left Hand

By JIM LAMB

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I'd gone all that way, I couldn't let one hand pull me back," said Olympic heavyweight champion Joe Frazier, explaining why he fought the championship bout with a broken left hand.

Frazier, a 6-foot, 186-pound Philadelphia slaughterhouse worker, broke the hand in a semifinal fight at Tokyo, but like a stoic told no one just how bad the injury was.

Frazier, 20, threw numerous left hooks throughout the final fight as he gained a 3-2 decision over Germany's Hans Huber.

"It happened when I hit the Russian in the second round," said Frazier at a local hospital where he is receiving treatment. Frazier knocked out Vadim Yemelyanov in the second round of their semifinal.

Frazier, the only American to win a gold medal in boxing, almost didn't make it to Tokyo.

In 37 amateur bouts, he has lost just twice, both times to Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich. One of those losses was in the Olympic tryouts.

Pat Duffy, boxing chairman of the Middle Atlantic states of the Amateur Athletic Union, said after the second loss, Frazier was ready to quit trying for an Olympic berth. "I don't ever want to fight again, this is it," Frazier told Duffy.

But Duffy finally persuaded him to keep trying, saying he might make it to Tokyo in a lighter weight or if Mathes became disabled. On just such an outside chance, Frazier paid for his own innoculations and passport, saved up some money to tide his family over, and went to Los Angeles.

Ironically while sparring Frazier there, Mathis jammed a knuckle and was out and Frazier went to Tokyo.

"He's the most determined kid I've ever seen," Duffy said of Frazier.

While training, Frazier, the father of three, arises at 4:30 a.m. for road work through Fairmount Park. Then he works all day at a local abatoir and at dusk goes to a gym to workout.

Frazier said he didn't know how bad his hand was injured at first.

"I couldn't get a grip like I wanted to, so I started to soak it.

"It began to feel a little better and I felt I could make it through one more fight.

"Besides I'd gone all that way, I couldn't let one hand pull me back."

He said he spoke to a team physician, but didn't say just how serious the injury was. He pulled back when the physician suggested X rays. "He didn't know how bad it was," said Frazier.

Frazier said he won't decide for a while whether to become a professional fighter.

It's back to the slaughterhouse, he said, as soon as his hand is healed. "Right now it's bothering me a little. It's a little sore," he said.

LEWIS IMPRESSIVE, BUT . . .

Mira Gets The Treatment

REDWOOD CITY (UPI) — The San Francisco 49ers may be ready to spring a secret weapon Sunday at Baltimore — fullback Gary Lewis.

"He's running well," coach Jack Christiansen said yesterday. "It's hard to say how much he'll play Sunday. It depends a lot on how the man in front of him (Mike Lind) does. But he'll be ready to play this time. He knows the plays now."

Lewis arrived in the 49er camp late and was reluctantly cut when his weight stayed around 245 pounds. But he was reactivated from the United Football League last week and now tips the scales about 228 after practice. The 49ers figure 225 before practice would be about right, but Lewis is still in good shape and the Prospectors are high on his abilities.

San Francisco got more good news when flanker and defensive back Dale Messer worked out for the first time since spraining a knee Oct. 11 at Green Bay. He'll be ready to fill in Sunday.

Meanwhile, 49er rookie George Mira got the treatment yesterday when he arrived for practice. Mira's ex-college coach, Andy Gustafson, had been quoted as saying the 49ers were mistreating Mira.

So when George arrived yesterday, he found his stall surrounded by new drapes (made of old canvas). There was a slightly scratched desk for Mira upon which reposed chewing gum in three flavors.

Inscribed on a piece of decorative tape was the plea from the 49ers: "We are trying."

And there was a picture of George and Gustafson, arm in arm, captioned along the bottom: "To my boy—(from) Gussie."

Mira put on a straight face and commented: "Just what I need. Gee thanks, fellows, I didn't know you cared."

John Brodie, the man Mira is trying to push out of a job, arrived and asked him when he would like luncheon served.

A phone rang somewhere in the back of the room. Mira dead-panned "Tell them I'm indisposed and not taking any calls."

Pro Fans In New York, Chicago, Green Bay Getting Frustrated

Jack Hanley

Nobody expected much this season from the 49ers so the fact that they are in the NFL's Western Conference cellar hasn't caused more than a ripple of comment. But in New York, Chicago and Green Bay, followers of the Giants, Bears and Packers are futilely trying to explain what happened to their beloved teams during the first half of the pro football season.

Green Bay fans are so depressed over the plight of the Packers they are in danger of becoming couch patients. This was to be the year the Packers would sweep through the league once again with the return of Paul Hornung. But a year in the penalty box took the magic out of Hornung's toe and the Packers already have lost three games because of faulty kicks.

CHICAGO FANS were reasonably certain at the outset of the season that their Bears would take the 1964 title race right down to the last week. After all, it was the Bear defense that won the championship last year. And wasn't the Bear defense the same this year? Not quite. The Bear defense already has been shoved around for 2,167 yards in seven games. Even the 49er defense is better with 2,127 yards against it.

New York fans felt that their Giants would continue winning football titles just as the Yankees systematically tuck away baseball crowns. Even the winter trades of Sam Huff, Dick Modzelewski and Phil King wouldn't affect the winning ways of the Giants. Y. A. Tittle would see to that. But age finally has caught up with old YAT and his timing is way off this year—16 interceptions. That's two more than John Brodie and George Mira have thrown.

NEW YORK, Chicago and Green Bay fans may be depressed but their emotional problem is nothing compared to the confusion that has gripped Reno and Las Vegas football bookies. The repeated upsets have left the bookies wondering whether they should throw all past form charts into the ashcan.

However, the bookies feel reasonably safe on at least one game this weekend. They unhesitatingly have picked the Colts by 17 points over the 49ers.

1968 OLYMPICS

Russia Is Already Talking Revenge

By WILL GRIMSLEY

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Russian bear lost some of its bite in the Tokyo Olympics but watch out for 1968, warn U.S. officials.

"The most foolish thing we could do would be to become complacent and let our guard down," said Col. Don Hull, executive director of the Amateur Athletic Union, returning from the successful Games in Japan.

"The Russians have told us outright that they will be gunning for us at Mexico City. We must be ready for them. The Mexico Games will be more than a sports rivalry—it will be a battle for prestige and ideology."

Hull said friends on the Russian squad told him that the Soviets were disappointed that America outscored them in gold medals—36 to 30—and outshone them in the big prestige events, track and field and swimming.

"But that is not the main reason the Russians will give it everything in Mexico City," Hull said.

"The 1968 Olympics will be in our own back yard. The Russians will do their darnedest to embarrass us before our own people and before the South American countries.

"Many of the South American nations are teetering on the brink of Communism. They have been influenced by Cuba. They don't know which way to go.

"They are influenced by strength. Many of them may set their political course by what they see on the playing fields in Mexico."

Huli said he hoped that all organizations connected with the Olympics — the colleges, amateur bodies, high schools and independents—will intensify their efforts to get stronger rather than relax during the next two years.

"We must improve in the so-called minor sports such as gymnastics, wrestling and fencing," he added. "The AAU plans to set up a junior Olympic program in these events to encourage more participants.

"Also, we must try to get more international competition. We have it in track. We must have it in these fringe sports. It costs money. But it is important."

Louis Fisher of High Point, N.C., past president of the AAU, joined Hull in his plea for continued U.S. athletic vigilance.

Too Wet For Almaden Play Today

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The rain - sodden Almaden Country Club course was so wet today that the opening round of the $25,000 Almaden Open was postponed until tomorrow.

Soaking downpours yesterday and overnight caused suspension of play in the $2,500 pro-amateur event, so officials decided to give $50 each to the 50 pros who tried to play in it yesterday.

Forecasts indicated the rainstorm was tapering off and play in the 72-hole open could start tomorrow over the 7,035-yard course near San Jose.

Officials had not decided whether to adjust it to a three-day event, with the finale Sunday as originally scheduled, or extend the tournament for a Monday windup.

If it should be turned into a three-day tournament, the pros would play 36 holes one day, probably Sunday, as the field normally is cut after the first 36 holes.

Celtics Win 6th Straight

Harry (The Horse) Gallatin was a rugged, almost indestructible iron man when he played with the New York Knicks.

But Gallatin apparently has turned soft as coach of the St. Louis Hawks. His ears are sensitive.

Gallatin yanked Bill Bridges out of the game in the third period of the Hawks' 119-117 loss to unbeaten Boston last night and wound up fining him $100 for using vulgar language.

"Bill gave me some lip service when I decided to take him out," Gallatin said. "This won't affect his status as a starter, but there's no room on the club for a player challenging my judgment."

Bridges finished the night in the dressing room. His evening's performance got him the $100 fine and two points.

While the Celtics were running their winning streak to six, the Los Angeles Lakers whipped Baltimore 112-102 in the only other game scheduled in the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks seemed to have the Celtics on the ropes in the fourth quarter when they built their lead to 16 points, 102-86.

But the Celtics struck back, tied the score 111-111 when Larry Siegfriend hit for three points with four minutes left and moved ahead with 1:17 to go on a basket by Sam Jones. Two field goals by Tom Heinsohn, the last with 15 seconds to go, clinched it.

Jones was high man for the Celtics with 27 points. Zelmo Beaty scored 30 for the Hawks.

Los Angeles broke up a close game with Baltimore with eight straight points late in the fourth period. Three consecutive field goals by Jerry West sparked the scoring spree.

West's 32 points topped the Lakers, who boosted their hold on first place in the Western Division with a 4-1 record. Walt Bellamy, who fouled out in the final quarter, was high for Baltimore with 24.

NEW SITE FOR MARIN'S PREP GAME-OF-YEAR

The game which is expected to bring the greatest crowd of the season—that one between Terra Linda and Drake—has been switched to Kentfield on Saturday night, Nov. 14, it was announced by MAL commisisoner George Corson.

Originally scheduled to be played at San Rafael High, Terra Linda, the home team, decided that the move would be in the best interest to everyone as more people could see the contest. Also a dance is scheduled that night at the San Rafael gym.

Both teams are expected to enter the game with undefeated records after eight weeks of play.

Jim Marshall Gets 'Credit' For 66 Yards

MINNEAPOLIS — ST. PAUL (AP) — Jim Marshall's wrong-way run with a recovered fumble last Sunday in Minnesota's win against the San Francisco 49ers will go down in the National Football League record books officially as a 66-yard dash.

The official statistician in San Francisco had credited Marshall with a 60-yard run for a 49er safety, but a review of game films showed it actually covered 66 yards.

The feat thus is credited with being two yards longer than Roy Regels' famed wrong-way run in the Rose Bowl.

Asked why he didn't run onto the field to tackle Marshall as he sped past the Viking bench, Coach Norm Van Brocklin quipped:

Jeff Mullins Signs Hawks Contract

ST. LOUIS (AP) — All-America Jeff Mullins signed a contract with the St. Louis Hawks last night and was in uniform for the team's National Basketball Assn. game with the Boston Celtics.

Each Card Received $8,622 For Series

NEW YORK (AP) — The difference between winning and losing the World Series was $3,312.90. That was the spread between each St. Louis Cardinal winning share of $8,622.19 and each full New York Yankee losing share of $5,309.29.

The official shares, announced yesterday by Commissioner Ford Frick, has few surprises. As had been reportedly previously, Mel Stottlemyre, Yankee rookie pitcher, got a full share, and Pete Ramos, acquired from Cleveland in early September, drew one-half share of $2,654.65.

The fact that Harry Bright, reserve infielder who was sent to Richmond in mid-May, also got $2,654.65 was interesting.

The Cardinals voted three-fourths of a share to Barney Schultz, the 38-year-old knuckle ball pitcher who helped them so much down the stretch in the National League race. Schultz got $6,466.64.

So did Dal Maxvill, the utility infielder who played second base all during the Series in place of the injured Julian Javier.

The winning and losing shares were far short of the records set last year when the Los Angeles Dodgers got $12,794 each for winning and the Yanks drew $7,874.32 in spite of their four straight defeats.

The difference between the size of the Dodger park and the 30,000 plus capacity of Busch Stadium in St. Louis made the difference in money.

For the first time the fifth-place teams participated in the player pool. Commissioner Frick estimated this cut about $100 off the shares of the Cards and Yanks.

Fifth place was worth $218.81 for each full share with the Milwaukee Braves and $195.62 for each Los Angeles Angel.

Philadelphia and Cincinnati tied for second in the National so they split second and third money. Because of a different voting on shares, each Red got $1,254.76 and each Phil $1,165.63.

The Chicago White Sox received $1,466.01 for finishing second in the American League and Baltimore drew $971.85 for coming in third. San Francisco's fourth place slice was worth $467.57 and Detroit's fourth place $509.69.

Raiders Pick Up Kick Specialist From Denver

DENVER (AP) — Gene Mingo, Denver Bronco halfback and place-kicking specialist placed on waivers last Saturday was claimed yesterday by the Oakland Raiders.

Fanning will report to the Broncos Thursday and Coach Mac Speedie indicated he would be ready for Sunday's game at Kansas City.

Mingo, 26, was one of three original members of the Denver team formed in 1960. In 1962 he led the American Football League in scoring and had 33 points in the first six Bronco league games this year.

BRUINS COME 'HOME'

Tackle Kent Francisco (left), former San Rafael High School star, and center Prentice O'Leary of Santa Rosa will lead the UCLA Bruins against the California Bears at Berkeley Saturday in a sort of "homecoming" game for the transplanted local boys. Francisco is captain of the Bruins and O'Leary alternate captain. Both are seniors.

THE LOUDMOUTH

Cassius Steals The Verbal Show

BOSTON (AP) — Cassius (Muhammad Ali) Clay was a week late arriving at the scene of his heavyweight boxing title defense but it didn't take him long to take the verbal offensive from challenger Sonny Liston.

Clay, fortified by the presence of the old movie comic, Stepin Fechit, and word of a weapon called the Anchor Punch, glowed with enthusiasm as he met Boston newsmen and then opened his on-the-scene training camp for the Nov. 16 title bout.

"He's an old man, he can't keep up with me," the champion sneered. "I've got better sparring partners than Liston."

"He's got to be mine in nine. But I may have to shorten it before fight time. About a week before the fight, I might make it in four."

Confident Clay startled newsmen by bringing up the subject of losing.

"I'm warning you that if I lose it's going to be clean or I'll tell the world," he said. "I am having movies taken of everything that happens in Liston's corner as well as my own."

Clay said he has "heard a lot of rumors that things will come up dirty for this fight." In case it does, Clay said, "I have invited 15 delegates to the United Nations from various countries to be at the fight so the world will know if I am cheated."

The champion also referred to the last fight in which he was declared the winner because Liston didn't come out after the sixth round. In the fifth round, Clay complained that his eyes were stinging and he accused the Liston camp of using something to hurt his vision.

Clay said his strategy for this fight will be to "hit and not be hit." He said he was going to "dance—float like a butterfly—and sting like a bee."

Liston wasn't present. The challenger arrived in Boston last week and set up his training camp at historic Plymouth, where the Pilgrims landed in the 'New World.'

After wearing out most of his sparring partners, Liston was given yesterday off while new candidates answered the latest plea for ringwise help.

Liston has looked very sharp, and surprisingly trim, in workouts so far. There has been some fear that the challenger may reach his best fighting edge too soon.

So yesterday was all Clay's—and Stepin Fechit, who was born Lincoln Perry.

The 72-year-old comedian who rose to fame in the old Will Rogers movies treated nostalgic newsmen to some of his old routines while explaining a secret weapon he had picked up watching old films of former heavyweight champion Jack Johnson.

Perry, introduced as an advisor, told about the Anchor Punch Johnson used and he promised Clay would use it against Liston.

The punch was not described in an effort to keep it secret.

En route to his training facilities—the Boston Arena Annex Gym—Clay stopped off to visit Boston Celtics basketball star Bill Russell. Russell, on the road with the National Basketball Association team, wasn't there to receive the courtesy call.

Chrysler May Quit NASCAR

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. says it will pull its factory sponsored cars out of NASCAR competition next year unless NASCAR changes or suspends some new rules.

In a letter to the National Association of Stock Car Automobile Racing, Chrysler said the new rules will "arbitrarily eliminate from NASCAR competition the finest performance cars on the 1964 circuit, including the car of the grand national champion," driven by Richard Petty.

The rules that have Chrysler, one of two major automobile manufacturers to sponsor racing teams, in a huff are the raising of the minimum wheel base from 116 to 119 inches and the use of production design engines.

"Under these new rules the equipment running on NASCAR tracks in 1965 will be inferior to the best the automotive industry can produce for this purpose," said the letter from Romney Householder, director of competitive products for Chrysler.

This letter was directed to NASCAR President Bill France of Daytona Beach, Fla., who replied:

"The 1965 NASCAR specifications were designed to provide fair competition among all 1965 American standard-sized production automobiles."

STEVENS

Once again the worm has turned—up. Blood worms for bait for bass. George Mura of the Reel Rod Benders phoned me to report on the weekend effort of a number of the members to get in the lead from the club's running competition. Seems that all members fishing Saturday or Sunday fished the Suisun Bay area. One lad, Willie Naruo baited with a bullhead and was top rod over the weekend with one 7, one 10½ and one 25 pounder. Most of the others took their fish on blood worms. Must have been a happy group with lots of swell bass. Pete Rivers limited with a 14, 16 and 20 pounders. Bob Naruo had a 15. Mike Silva tied that, Frank Saito landed a six and a 14, Bob Hamilton had a 14, Mel Lou had one 15 and one 16, By Water, a 10 and a 12, and Floyd Alexander had a limit consisting of an 11, a 13½ and a 17.

CARL BENNETT of the Rodeo Marina called to report a bonanza Saturday. Due congratulations are: Ken Weaver and Clarence Souza of Fremont who had their quota by 8:30 a.m., Joe Austin limited from three to 11 pounds off Buoy 8; George Diridoni and Ernie Thomson had limits that Carl said averaged 18 pounds, and Joe Gehring took his legal three fish that ran to 23 pounds. The Party boats averaged one-and-a-half fish per rod one day and had a two-fish per rod the following day. The big party boat, Bluefish, with 17 aboard, unloaded 17 nice bass to eight pounds.

Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Crockett harbor reported that Johnny Sivera is consistently bringing back a mess of sturgeon. The boat Dowrelio No. 6 had five limits to 14 pounds (bass) near Buoy 10. The boat Sturgeon made a half-day run to net eight nice stripers for his six passengers.

HAL BOENNER, of Lee Anderson's in Oakland, reported a successful trip Sunday by the Ino. Twenty-one stripers, 42 rockfish, 5 lings and 1 cabezone. Action was had near the South Tower of the Golden Gate Bridge. Old-timer, Johnny Tank is at it again. Douglas Floyd Johnny netted six bass to 29 pounds . . . all on bullheads. Hal told me he is stocking sand worms—that he prefers them to the blood worms, because the sand worm is more hardy—stays on the hook better and seems to please the bass as much.

Checking the action on salmon was not very encouraging. Looks like the salmon are resting up at present. Boats came in the past three days with one, two, or three fish only.

Striper striving in the lower reaches of the bay waters is likewise unrewarding. Oh. yes, a few bass are taken each day in the San Francisco Spots, the South Bay and the Estuary, but only a few according to Pudge Gagnon of the Fruitvale bait shop.

TO SUMMARIZE, the best bet for stripers appears to be in the San Pablo Bay in fairly deep water (around 30 feet), the Napa River, the Carquinez Strait and the lower Suisun Bay by the ships, as well as Honker Bay.

About ducks — Saturday was fair to good in the local areas; Sunday was still better. My meat-man friend, John Devincenzi, raved over the wonderful shoot he and his fellow members of Nick Martin's Sutter Basin Duck Club had. "Just perfect, Steve!" said the pride of Telegraph Avenue. "Easy limits in jig time of bull sprigs and mallard drakes." John has about 150 dekes and makes 'em himself. He has developed a "duck-call" that has the birds fighting to come in.

Williamson Leads Senior Golf Tourney

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Bud Williamson, the keen shooting pro golfer from Lincoln, Neb., went into the second round of the $35,000 National Senior Open Golf Course today with a leading five-under-par 67 after the first 18 holes on the Washoe County Golf Course in Reno.

Three-time National Senior champ, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Ellisville, Mo., and John Barnum of Belmont, Mich. are close behind the leading Williamson in a tie for second place at 68.

San Francisco's Bud Shank carded the best score in the amateur division with a gross score of 68. His four stroke handicap gives him the over-all scoring lead with a net of 64.

Williamson's sizzling shots in the tough course gave him three birdies and an eagle. Jimmy Demaret, one of the pros expected to be right near the top of the pack came in four strokes off the pace with a 71.

Amateur J. W. Watson of La Mesa, Calif. is second behind Shank with a gross score of 71 and a net of 67.

The tournament is the richest in the history of senior golf. The U. S. National Senior Open Golf Assn. and four Reno co-sponsors are offering a $35,000 pro purse and $15,000 in amateur awards.

Racial Factors Not Involved In Sugar Bowl Pick

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — No racial factor will be involved in the choice of teams for the New Year's Day Sugar Bowl football game, officials said yesterday.

"All eligible teams are being considered, whether or not they have Negro players," said Theo Maumus, president of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association.

Maumus said unbeaten Notre Dame, which has three Negro players, ranks high on the list of potential teams.

In addition, the association will send representatives Saturday to the Texas-Southern Methodist, Nebraska-Missouri and Duke-Georgia Tech games. Nebraska has Negro players.

Drake Pirates Continue To Lead Statistics

Lazzarini Regains Rushing Lead From His Teammate

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake High School's high-flying Pirates football team continues to lead all offensive departments in Marin Athletic League statistics as compiled by the Independent-Journal.

Dean Lazzarini, the nifty halfback for the Pirates, took back the rushing lead from teammate Joe DeMasi after gaining 160 yards last Saturday against Novato. Dean has picked up 389 yards in 53 carries compared to DeMasi's 311 yards. Lazzarini has a 7.3 average per carry and DeMasi has a 5.8 average.

Lazzarini is still the leading scorer in the league with 38 points on six touhdowns and two extra points. Right behind him is another Drake boy, end Larry Stein who has caught five touchdown passes. Stein is also the top receiver in the league with 319 yards on 13 catches.

Al Simontacchi, the tall (6-2) quarterback for Drake, is the leading passer in the league so far with 334 yards gained. But right on his heels is Terra Linda's Gary Lieberman with 332 yards.

In team statistics, Drake is leading in rushing yardage (749), passing yardage (545), and total offense (1,294 yards). Defensive team statistics have Novato in front in total yardage allowed (524) and passing yardage allowed (123), while San Rafael is the ground defensive leader with 205 yards against it.

Terra Linda, tied with Drake for the league lead, has five runners in the top 10 of the MAL. That speaks highly for the depth in the Trojans' backfield. That list includes fullback Steve Frazzini, and halfbacks Tim Garvin, Dave Bowman, Rick Edwards and John Clifford.

PREP OF WEEK—Tim Harr, San Rafael hard running halfback, gives a high step right into the spotlight of Prep of the Week after his four-touchdown performance last Friday against Marin Catholic High.

San Rafael's Tim Harr Is Named As Prep Of Week

Tim Harr, as versatile a player a team can have, has been selected as teh Prep of the Week by the Independent-Journal sports staff for his outstanding performance in leading San Rafael to its win last week.

The senior halfback tallied four touchdowns to lead the Bulldogs to a 33-0 blanking over Marin Catholic. This feat, done on runs of one, four, seven and 15 yards, established a new individual school records for most touchdowns in a single game.

The old record of three TDs was held by Harr, who did the job earlier this season against St. Mary's of Berkeley, and Bob Taylor back in 1958.

Harr, who picked up 115 yards last week, moved into fourth position in the rushing statistics for the MAL with 239 yards on 34 carries for a 7.0 average.

Coach Bob Muster, who led the Bulldogs to a co-championship last year in the Marin Athletic League, feels Harr "is the best running back I've had since being at San Rafael."

Looking back on Tim's record as a varsity player, it is interesting to note that Harr scored the San Rafael touchdown in last year's opening league 7-6 win over Novato that set the pace for the Bulldogs to have their fine MAL season.

Not only is Harr a fine runner, but the 5-11 back also does the punting and has bombed some kicks as far as 50 yards in the air. "His desire is very good and he just loves this game," Muster said when ask to comment on Harr's attitude.

Harr's plans in the future will probably find him running for touchdowns next year at College of Marin. He will probably major in physical education.

Harr will be leading his Bulldog teammates against strong Terra Linda High tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Bulldogs' stadium.

In other Marin Athletic League action, which promises to be wet and sloppy, Redwood and Marin Catholic clash at College of Marin stadium and Novato hosts Tamalpais, both games starting Saturday at 2 p.m.

Drake will host Manteca in a practice game Saturday night at 8 o'clock, College of Marin stadium, Kentfield.

Shipes Wins California Welter Title

Shipes weighed 144, Shelton 147.

The three officials voted for Shipes. Referee Rudy Ortega scored it 9-2; Judge Abe Cohen, 6-5, and Judge Elmer Costa, 6-2.

Only 579 fans saw the fight but they applauded the boxers in virtually every round.

There were no knockdowns, but Shipes landed hard rights to the jaw to jolt his opponent in the fifth and 11th rounds.

The most torrid round was the 11th when Shelton seemed to hurt his foe, only to have Shipes roar back and buckle his knees with solid smashes to the chin.

Food Poisoning At Iowa State

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Dr. Ralph Mohri, Ames city health commissioner, continued testing yesterday to determine the cause of an apparent food poisoning outbreak which struck the Iowa State football team Monday.

All 13 players hospitalized with the ailment were playing yesterday, but coach Clay Stapleton said, "The players are very weak. We have no idea if they will be at 100 per cent strength for Army Saturday."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Marin Catholic 'C' Cagers Win

Marin Catholic's Class C basket team downed Drake 34-18 Tuesday in Marin Athletic League action on the Drake courts. Leading the Wildkittens to their 7-1 record was Harry Matsinger with 18 points.

In another game, San Rafael whipped Tamalpais by a 52-28 count, with Steve Durham topping the Bullpup scorers with 17 points. San Rafael's victory gave it a 3-3 record.

Elephant Ride Leads To Fashion—

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Countess Zoltowska, the petite product of pre-war Viennese society, recently rode an elephant for two days into the northern jungles of Thailand. She wanted to select the raw silk for use in her couture fashion collection.

"The Thais weave sunshine into their silk. It is the only kind I will use," she said during a brief stop here on her first tour of the West Coast.

The tiny brunette, who weighs 80 pounds and wears a size 1½ shoe, recalled the politeness of the Thai people, despite the jarring elephant ride.

"They are so polite they will never say 'No.' For example, in asking directions we had to say 'Where is the road?' rather than 'Is it the right road?' The people refused to say 'No,' even if our elephants were headed in the wrong direction."

The countess, whose real name is Cissy Zoltowska, has been designing dresses only one year. But she is no novice to fashion. For the past 13 years Countess Zoltowska's name has been associated with jewelry frequently shown in the Paris fashion openings by such couturiers as Givenchy and Balenciaga.

"What I try to do is simple, but different; different by design and color," said the 4-foot-10 designer. "I create by thought association. My entire line only takes me about two months to complete," she said.

The collection encompasses everything from hostess gowns, mix and match Capri sets to heavy silver or gold silk brocades for the opera. "My fashions can be worn summer or winter. And I want to have about 4,000 on the market each year rather than 20,000 dresses," she said. "It is best to be exclusive."

The Zoltowska line includes 100 different ensembles, all of hand-woven silk. They escalate in price to about $350.

All of the creations are made in Bangkok and shipped to Paris. The line currently is being sold in Paris and New York. "Within one or two months exclusive stores on the West Coast will be handling my line," she said.

The countess, whose husband was Polish, is a divorcee. She has no children.

"I have so many children," she said, motioning to her dress and jewelry creations, "but designing clothes is now my first child."

Most Demos In House To Stay

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Some faces may change, but California's heavily Democratic delegation to the House of Representatives is expected to stay that way once the ballots are counted.

The lineup is 23 Democrats and 15 Republicans. The most likely outcome of the election is for one or two incumbents in each party to be knocked off—leaving the division the way it is now.

This, of course, is barring a political miracle for the GOP in districts overwhelmingly Democratic in registration. Democrats hope for a Johnson landslide in California, figuring that might nudge over the victory line Democrats who otherwise probably couldn't win.

Chances for truly competitive congressional contests are rare. Only about nine of the 38 seats can really be considered available to either candidate. The rest are safely Democratic or Republican because of voter registration edges or personal popularity of incumbents.

The congressional candidate with the least to worry about is veteran Negro poliltician Augustus F. Hawkins. His 21st Congressional District in Los Angeles registered 81.86 per cent Democratic for the June primary—and only 16.19 per cent Republican. Obviously, Hawkins' GOP foe Nov. 3, Rayfield Lundy, doesn't have his bags packed for moving to Washington.

One man is already elected. He is freshman Rep. Phillip Burton of San Francisco, who has no Republican opposition.

Two Democratic incumbents definitely are in trouble, and their defeat would be no upset. They are James C. Corman of the 22nd Distirct in the San Fernando Valley and Lionel Van Deerlin of the 37th in San Diego.

Dick Wilson, brother of GOP Congressman Bob Wilson, is taking another run at Van Deerlin in a district that is about 58 per cent Democratic in registration but conservative in outlook. Van Deerlin, a liberal who has tempered some of his stands, beat Wilson in 1962 by only 3,141 votes out of 121,835 cast.

Corman, also considered liberal, is opposed by Robert C. Cline of Canoga Park in a district about 54 per cent Democratic. Corman, who helped lead the House fight for the civil rights bill, represents one of the richest, best educated districts in the nation—a district where white resentment against Negro civil rights demands and methods might cost Gorman votes.

On the other side, two incumbent Republicans — both first termers—are waging uphill battles. They are Patrick Minor Martin of the 38th District in Imperial-Riverside counties, and Del Clawson of the 23rd centered around Compton.

Minor Martin, who voted against the civil rights bill, is faced by Democrat John V. Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, and a good friend of the Kennedys. Mrs. Patrick Lawford, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, Tunney's father and former heavyweight champ Jack Dempsey all have campaigned on behalf of young Tunney. This district is 56 per cent Democratic. Local observers gave Tunney the edge as the voting drew near.

Clawson, victor in a special election last year, is a Republican in a district 65 per cent Democratic. He's faced by a Democratic Party united behind H. O. Van Petten, Downey attorney.

Two seats are open because of incumbents retiring. One such incumbent is Harry Shepherd, dean of the state delegation. In his 33rd District in San Bernardino County, the race is between Democrat Ken Dyal and Republican Jerry Pettis. Dyal, with a 56 per cent Democratic registration figure behind him, was favored, but Pettis has waged a vigorous campaign.

In the 27th District, where 60 per cent of the voters are Democrats, Democratic Assemblyman Tom Bane is the heavy favorite for the seat being vacated by Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter, 67-year-old Democratic freshman frorm North Hollywood.

One other race appears at least in some doubt. That's in the sprawling, six-county Northern California First District. Rep. Don H. Clausen of Crescent City won a special election last year, even though he was a Republican in a district 53 per cent Democratic. His opponent, George McCabe, is the underdog, but a Johnson landslide might mean the difference here.

All Strawberry Rec Candidates Favor Annexation To District

All four candidates for the Strawberry Recreation District board favor the annexation to the district which voters also will decide in Tuesday's election.

Residents now in the recreation district and those in the areas proposed for annexation have the right to vote on the question, which needs an overall majority to pass.

The annexation would include about 90 dwelling units and property estimated at more than $300,000 assessed valuation. The area proposed is De Silva Island, South Knoll Road and Knoll Lane and portions of Reed Boulevard and Belvedere Drive.

The annexation would even off district boundaries so they would extend from Highway 101 to Tiburon Boulevard and from Saucelito Canal to Salt Works Canal.

The district tax rate for the 1964-65 fiscal year is 65 cents per $100 assessed valuation. No bonds are outstanding.

Candidates for the two vacancies on the five-man district board are:

Mrs. Charles P. (Helen) Drolla, 16 Strawberry Circle, who says she is in favor of the annexation as "all levels of the community will profit by it."

She has resided at that address for 13 years and before that lived in San Anselmo and San Rafael. She is a graduate of Tamalpais High School. Her husband owns a floral shop in San Francisco. They have four children, ages 11 to 18.

Mrs. Drolla served as executive secretary to the commanding officer of the Transportation Corps in Washington, D. C., during World War II and later was head of personnel for the corps.

She is president of the Marin Catholic Women's Club and has been active in both parochial and public school parent-teacher groups. Mrs. Drolla has been a Girl Scout leader, a den mother, and has participated in Little League and junior theater organizations and in the Red Cross swimming program.

Mrs. William R. (Jeanne) Heick says she favors the annexation as "it is land that is on the perimeter of the district and annexing it would bring the district up to its natural boundaries and would increase its tax base."

Mrs. Heick has lived at 139 Belvedere Drive for 10 years. She and her husband, a movie photographer for University of California at Berkeley, have four children, ages 9 to 21.

Mrs. Heick has been treasurer of the Little League, a den mother, Brownie leader and Girl Scout leader, and has been active in parent-teacher groups.

George C. Lopes, 40, also favors the annexation and would try to put more emphasis on water-connected recreation facilities by the district if elected.

Lopes retired three years ago as a chief petty officer in the Navy after 20 years service. He is employed as a postal clerk in the Mill Valley Post Office.

Lopes has resided at 30 Harbor Cove Way for almost 10 years. He and his wife have a 17-year-old son.

He has been manager of a Little League team for eight years and is treasurer of the Strawberry Cove Yacht Club.

While in the Navy he served on the recreation committee of the 12th Naval District as representative of his radar picket squadron on Treasure Island.

William H. McDonough, 43, favors the annexation because he says residents in that area already benefit from recreation district facilities. If elected, he hopes to diversify the recreational aims of the district and include development of a larger teen-age program.

McDonough and his family have resided at 86 South Knoll Road for nine years. He has six children, ages 4 to 16.

McDonough has been active in parent-teacher activities, has been an official in the Boy Scouts and a den leader. He is a director of the Little League and a team manager.

McDonough is president of Macventures, Inc., which produced the Tom Swifty books and a book on Phyllis Diller, and is president of Big Nose, Inc., which produced a book with a western fable told by drawings which is to be made into a television series. His business life has been in advertising, marketing, sales promotion and television production.

Two Marinites Enlist In Navy

They are Donald P. Cleary, son of retired Chief and Mrs. Maynard G. Cleary, 221 McAllister Avenue, Kentfield, and Thomas B. Richey Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Richey of 19 Francis Avenue, Larkspur. The buddy program assures them of being assigned to the same recruit training company at San Diego training center for the next 10 weeks.

College Young Demo Club Names Officers

The club has plans to participate in a caravan for State Senate candidate Vera Schultz Saturday. Last weekend club members helped distribute literature to homes in Terra Linda. The club will co-host a party at Democratic headquarters at San Rafael election night, Tuesday.

$34,549,796 In Tax Bills Being Sent Out In Marin

Tax bills totaling $34,549,796 will be mailed to Marin County property owners starting tomorrow, County Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez announced today.

Last year's total bill was $29,292,127.

About 59,000 bills will be mailed to individual taxpayers, Fontez said. "Anyone who doesn't get a bill by the end of next week should phone the tax collector's office."

The fact that a taxpayer doesn't get a bill does not relieve him of the responsibility of paying the tax, Fontez said.

He noted that about 11,000 bills go out to lending agencies that pay tax bills for the taxpayers.

This year, for the first time, every taxpayer will get a copy of the bill sent to the lending agency so he will know what his taxes are and where the money is being spent, Fontez said.

In prior years taxpayers whose taxes were paid by lending agencies were given the information only upon request. It is cheaper to send copies to all of them, he said.

Bills are being sent to the property owner of record as of March 2, so it is possible that those who have purchased property since then will not get a tax bill, Fontez said. "In that event, the bill goes to the former owner."

The tax bill covers the county tax, school taxes, special district and city taxes—the entire property tax burden.

The first installment is due Dec. 10 and the second is due next April 10. The taxpayer will get only one bill.

Fontez urged property owners to make sure they are paying taxes on the right property. The property is identified by parcel number and can be checked by map in the assessor's office, he said.

Lending agencies have sent in $400,000 in taxes already, Fontez said.

Public utilities have a tax bill of $2,964,089, he reported.

Antarctic Tourist Potential Is Seen

HOBART, Australia (AP)—The Antarctic's potential as a tourist resort has been overlooked, according to Dr. Phillip Law, director of the Foreign Ministry's Antarctic Division.

Law said in a lecture today that establishment of transantarctic air routes, possibly within the next 10 years, could lead to development of tourist activities on the icy continent.

Business, Industry Sites Hit By Fires

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most of the largest fires occurring in the United States each year hit business and industrial sites, reminds Chemetron Corp.'s Cardox division, manufacturer of industrial fire - protection systems.

"Large-loss" fires (causing at least $250,000 damage) account for approximately 15 per cent of one-billion-dollar-plus total fire loss each year, though amounting to little more than one tenth of 1 per cent of all fires, the company says.

Big Art Show Set To Open On Sunday

It's the annual fall art rental show of the Marin Society of Artists, selected from 500 entries yesterday (Wednesday) by a five-member jury. As the oil paintings, watercolors, graphics and sculptures are rented they will be replaced by other works chosen by the jury.

Turnover is expected to be high and most of the 500 entries may eventually be shown. Opening day rentals in past years averaged 141.

Jurors for the show are Dorner Schueler, Margaret Smith, Lotte McWatters, Ted Christensen and Doris Morrison with Bettyjo Norton as chairman of jurying procedure.

After Sunday the show will be open from 2 to 4 p.m. daily and from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays.

Rich Reported More Numerous If Not Richer

NEW YORK (AP)—The rich may or may not be getting richer, but they certainly are getting more numerous.

A study disclosed that the number of U.S. families with annual incomes of $25,000 and up nearly tripled from 1954 to 1963. The study, based mainly on Census Bureau figures, showed that the number of families earning $25,000 or more annually rose from 168,000 to 474,000, a gain of 182 per cent in the 10 year period.

Another old saying has it that the poor will always be with us, but the survey showed that they are growing less numerous. Families with annual incomes of less than $1,000 declined from 3,690,000 to 1,803,000 during the period, a drop of 51 per cent. The study also showed that more than four out of every 10 Americans now have incomes over $7,000 a year and that the number earning between $7,000 and $10,000 more than doubled in the 10 years studied.

Man Found Guilty In Burglary Trial

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday found John Lee Morgan, 22, Marin City, guilty of a May 14 burglary of the home of Ira Carrier, Building A-128, Marin City.

Deliberation took four hours. The trial began Tuesday. Morgan, of House 130, was accused of taking $15 and a .45-caliber pistol from Carrier's apartment. Judgment was scheduled by Judge Thomas F. Keating for 2 p.m. Nov. 23.

First Report Lunch Is Slated By Crusade

The first report luncheon of the current United Crusade campaign in Marin will be held at noon next Thursday, it was announced today.

The meeting will be at Scout Hall, 739 A Street, San Rafael, with the Marin Boy Scout Council in charge. Chairmen are William P. Murray Jr., vice president of the council, and Paul Y. Dunn, chief scout executive.

Stephen D. Burke, county campaign chairman, urged that all Marin Crusade volunteers finish their drives and turn in the gifts they have collected "so that we will have complete figures to report." Gifts also may be turned in at the meeting.

Cited for increased giving in portions of the campaign reported to date were these firms and groups:

Kaiser Foundation Health Plan, San Rafael, with 100 per cent staff participation, gifts totaling $378, an increase of 75 per cent.

McGraw-Hill Book Co., Corte Madera, total of $502 in employee donations, a 64 per cent gain.

Ten social agencies, staff donations up 9 per cent, to $2,742.

Chapman's Shoe Stores in San Rafael and Novato were cited for going over quota in employee and firm gifts for the second year in a row, and Associated Dredging Co. was cited for increased giving.

First Alarm Gave Hot Foot

NEW YORK (AP)—The world's first alarm clock was a candle that alarmed the sleeper by giving him a hot foot. It was probably invented in a medieval monastery by a monk who was a practical joker.

Medieval monks had the job of ringing church bells for "matins" at dawn. The sound of the bell signaled the start of the day for community.

Sometimes, however, the monk who was to ring the bell for matins overslept and so somebody thought of arranging a candle to wake him up at the desired time—with a hot foot.

Smart Living

By Charles H. Bellach

THE COMBINATION DEN AND BEDROOM

It generally requires a great deal of ingenuity to furnish your bedroom-den attractively, especially if it is a small room and you are trying to make it serve the purpose of two rooms.

However, there are now available so many different double-purpose items which are suitable for dens, that it is no longer the great problem it used to be.

Since a combination bedroom-den leads a "double life," it is necessary in most cases to use dual-purpose furniture such as sofas, sectionals or chairs which convert into beds; and wall shelves which can hold TV, Hi-Fi, and books.

There are endless numbers of fine sofa-beds on the market from which to select according to your space, taste and pocketbook. There are sofas and sectionals which conceal a single, double or twin beds, and even chairs and hassocks which make into beds. You can even get sectionals used on each side of a corner table which can be used as both chairs and beds.

A very comfortable lounge chair and an excellent reading lamp are a prerequisite to a well-planned den.

We have a complete selection of dual-purpose furniture, and we invite you to come in and see it. We can also help you with ideas on how to solve those special furnishing problems at your house.

12 Counties Have Extra Voting Hour

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Voters in 12 of California's 58 counties will have an extra hour in which to cast their ballots on Nov. 3.

The 12, covering the state's most populous areas, will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The other 46 will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

To stay open an extra hour the 12 counties must, under the law, satisfy one of four requirements:

1. Have a population over 400,000.
2. Use voting machines.
3. Operate electronic devices to tabulate voting results.
4. Receive permission from the county's board of supervisors, which must adopt a resolution allowing the extra time.

All but the last requirement will be utilized in this election.

Counties that will remain open an extra hour during the Nov. 3 election are: Alameda, Contra Costa, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, Sacramento, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Francisco, San Joaquin, San Mateo and Santa Clara.

Gets Steel Award

Dr. Lynn S. Beedle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Granville L. Beedle of Mill Valley, has been awarded a four-year Adam Memorial Membership in the American Welding Society in recognition of his teaching activities at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa. Young Beedle, a research professor in steel and allied products at Lehigh, received the award at a society meeting in San Francisco.

Concealed Weapon Charge Dismissed

Complaint of illegally carrying a concealed pistol was dismissed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Robert Scott MacMurray, 21, Waldo Point, following a five-month continuance on the condition that he live a law-abiding life.

MacMurray, who lives on a houseboat at Gate 6, was arrested May 15 at Waldo Point in an aftermath of a Mill Valley Teen Club dance and brawl at which he said he was armed in expectation of renewal of a fight.

This is a matter of LIFE and DEATH

There are seventeen California State measures on the 1964 ballot. These will be submitted to you for your consideration and vote. All of them are important.

But only one measure deals with the safety of your life and the lives of those in your family. Proposition 17.

You may have heard about it. A great deal has been said about Proposition 17. A lot of it misleading and confusing . . . some of it untrue.

Eliminate the California Minimum Crew Law.
Legalize unsafe "Skeleton-Crews" on California trains.
Deprive the Public Utilities Commission from regulating for public safety.

It has already been proven that when Minimum Crew Laws are suspended, the accident and casualty rate increases up to 50%.

The Democratic Party, at its convention in Sacramento, August 1964, voted unanimously to oppose Proposition 17. Earlier, the Republican State Central Committee, at its convention, saw so little merit in the initiative scheme that it also flatly refused to endorse the side of the powerful railroad interests.

Please vote NO on Proposition 17.

"Dear Senator McCarthy:

"...By advocating the enactment of Proposition No. 17 you appear to have entered into the scheme of the railroads to entice the people of California and all agencies of this State to regulate the manning of trains for the protection of the general public, the patrons, and the employees of the railroad. This complete surrender of the right of the State to regulate for the safety of its citizens is certainly contrary to your previous stand on this matter.

"...As Minority Leader of the Senate you are in effect asking the people of California to relieve you and your colleagues of the privilege, duty and responsibility of enacting laws to guarantee the safe operation of trains.

"...Are you willingly seeking to destroy the rights of the people you represent? This Organization now must revoke the endorsement which we heretofore granted your candidacy since your actions now appear contrary not only to the interests of our membership, but, in our opinion, contrary to the best interests of the people of California.

"Please be advised you are no longer authorized to in any way use the name of the ORDER OF RAILWAY CONDUCTORS AND BRAKEMEN in the furtherance of your campaign for re-election."

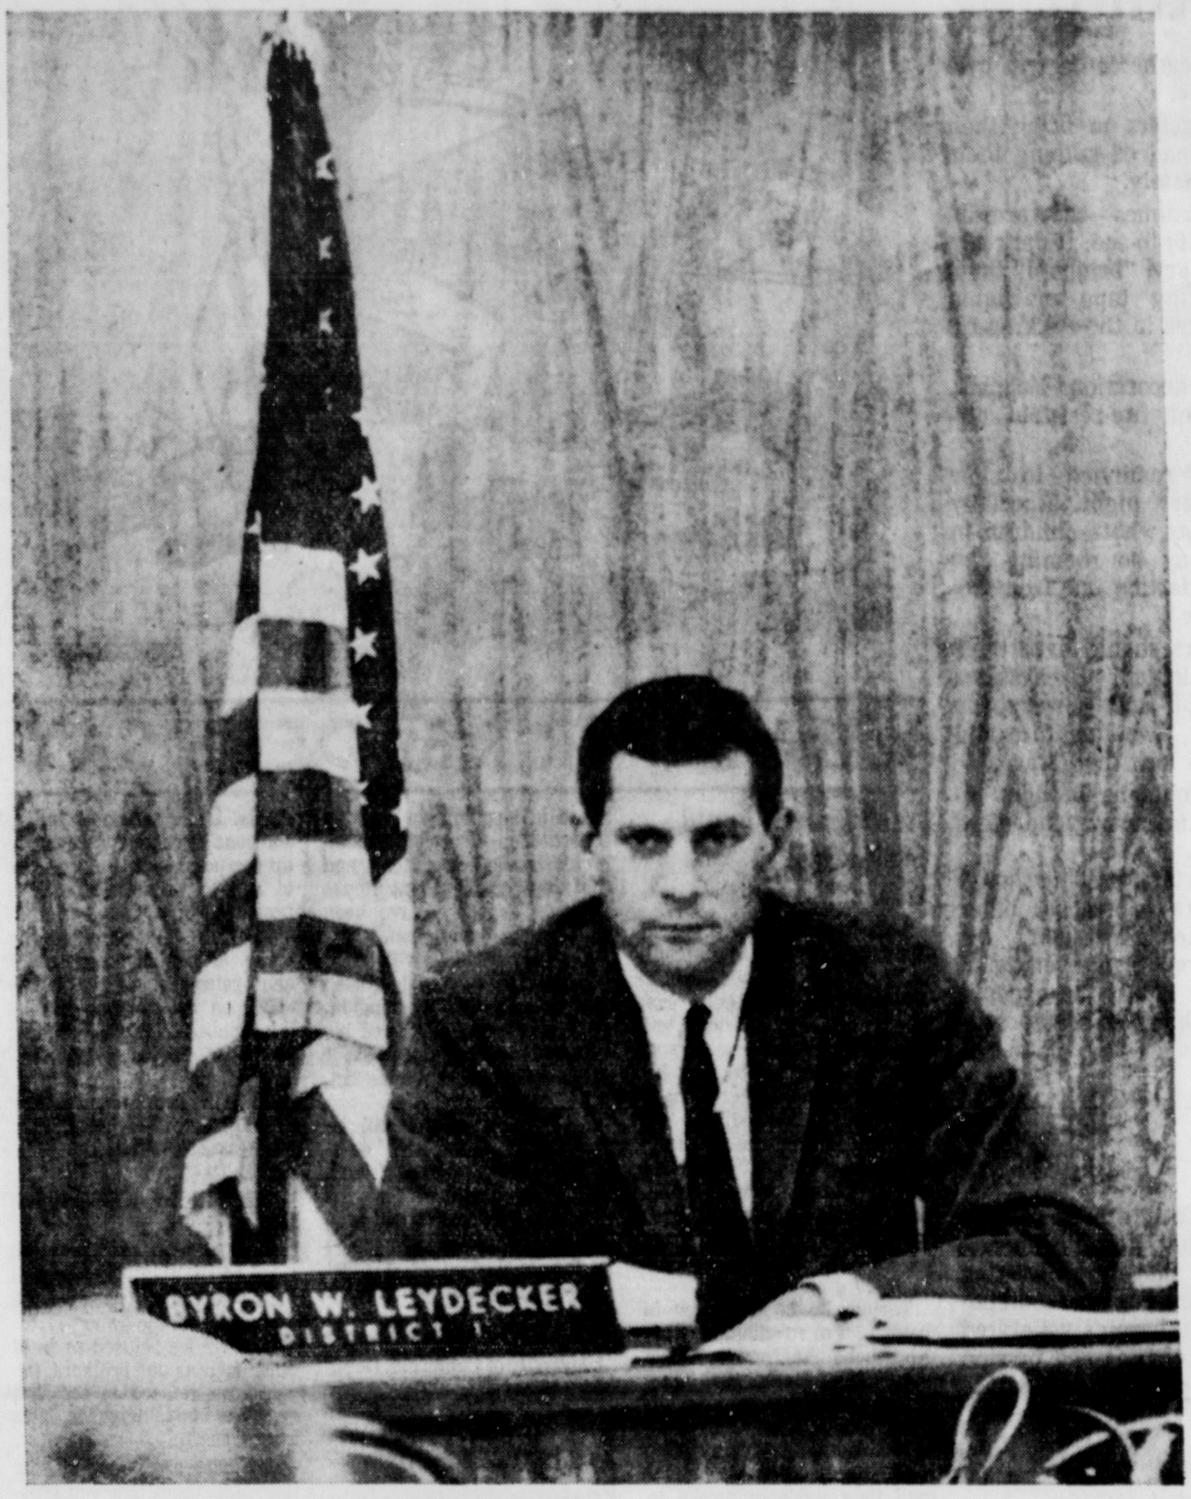
LEYDECKER LEYDECKER LEYDECKER LEY



"Let's face it, Marin. This is our point of no return. Which way do we go?"

There's one time, and one time only, when a community determines its fundamental future growth pattern. Now is the time for Marin. We still have our chance. Once you've decided to fill the Bay, it's filled. You cannot unfill it. Once you've decided to build freeways, they're built. And try removing a freeway. Once you've changed a blade of grass, or a tree, or any other natural element, it's changed. And it won't grow through concrete. Once you've decided it's too much work to attract light industry, you've lost your chance. And the homeowner taxpayer forever bears the brunt of property taxes.

Now is Marin's time of decision. And these are our issues. Decisions must be made right now, for our population is growing, our need for homes is growing, our economy is expanding. It could all get ahead of us in the very next few months, if we let it. And if so, Marin County gets dragged along, hanging onto a runaway tiger.

Planning is needed now. Leadership is needed now. Action is needed now. Talk and committee meetings are not enough. What's to be done?

1. We need a master plan to guide the growth of our scenic and recreational shoreline, before the Bay is filled. As Supervisor, Byron Leydecker has worked for a moratorium on Bay filling until a plan for development is completed. Can anyone establish where John McInnis stands on this issue?
2. Why should homeowners carry so much of the tax burden in Marin? Byron Leydecker is for light industrial and commercial development to broaden the tax base. He has acted to accomplish this. Where has the mayor been?
3. There are more people to protect in Marin County than developers. If homeowners are not to be sold down the river to satisfy special interests, we must have meaningful planning and zoning. Why is much of San Rafael, even today, still unzoned? Where has the mayor been? Why does San Rafael have no slope policy, so that unsightly gashes ruin our landscape? Where has the mayor been? Do we want this condition spreading throughout our county? Zoning and planning, not diversionary lip service, is needed now.

Here are the programs Byron Leydecker has backed as supervisor:

- County-wide road development plan
- Long-term capital improvements needs and financing plan
- Marin Transit District
- Increased emphasis on land use planning
- Low-rent housing for the elderly
- Tax reform
- Community mental health facilities
- Increased cooperation and coordination among various units of local government
- Strengthened role of county administrative officer
- Minority employment and training program
- A broadened tax base through attracting light industry

"Let's face it, Marin. This is our point of no return. Which way do we go? Do we talk, or do we act?"

What kind of a county do you want in five years or 50?

Vote Leydecker.

Moderation Needed In Halloween Fun Making

In the last year or two, several Marin residents have suggested that lights be turned on that night in every nook and cranny to discourage malicious vandalism. It sounds like a good idea.

For the safety of the youngsters themselves, the California Medical Assn. and other groups like insurance companies have come out with some safety tips as a public service.

Safe practices are not intended to take the fun out of Halloween. Youngsters like to dress up in horrifying costumes and go trick-or-treating. But parents who launch the children and motorists who encounter them on the streets should be extra cautious.

If your children wear masks, use cosmetics and burnt cork to paint the masks right on their faces. Cloth or head masks may slip and block a child's vision.

Children should not carry knives or other sharp instruments. If they need illumination, make sure it's battery powered, not lighted torches or candles.

Avoid dark costumes—they are difficult for motorists to see. If dark costumes are necessary, "brighten" them up with reflecting tape or liquid "paint" that shines in the dark or reflects light.

Motorists are reminded to slow down on Halloween night, especially in residential areas where children in dark clothing may be roaming the streets or come darting out from between parked cars.

Property owners should have their premises well lighted. Excavations should be covered, and flower beds fenced. Put away lawn furniture and garbage cans, and lock the garage.

And most important, parents should remind youngsters to respect other people's properties. We don't begrudge the children their evening of fun, but certainly not at the expense of malicious mischief and wanton destruction.

Some Election Oddities

Has it ever struck you as strange that in the richest country on earth the polling place for this sacred rite is often someone's unheated garage?

Have you ever wondered why in this most free country the voters are so apathetic that a 70 per cent turnout of the registered voters is considered good?

Has this year's election seemed rather weird in that, despite the fact that we have two sharply contrasting philosophies of government contending, the candidates haven't generated the usual amount of heat and passion among the run-of-the-mill voters?

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Freedom To Sell Home; But How About Freedom To Buy?

By WAT TAKESHITA

PROPOSITION 14 and the Rumford Act still draw considerable controversy.

TAKESHITA

If you have felt injustices under the Rumford and other housing laws, then you would vote YES on Proposition 14, thus eliminating such housing laws.

IF YOU FEEL the Rumford Act and other existing laws are doing a fair job, then you would vote NO on Proposition 14. A "No" vote on Proposition 14 would leave the laws as they are.

The most telling argument of the "Yes on 14" group is this: "I want the freedom to sell or rent my property to anyone I choose." It's a strong argument; everybody likes to be his own boss.

TROUBLE IS, you are thinking of yourself only as the owner. You forget that sometime you might be the buyer or renter, looking for a place.

When you're house-hunting and have the required money to put up, you would want that same "Freedom to buy or rent anywhere I choose." You would want to be your own boss in picking the spot for your family. You don't want to be told by the home owner or tract or apartment owner:

"Sorry, fella. This area is only for Scandinavians (or Greeks, or English). You'll have to go across the tracks."

TAKE ANOTHER example. If you owned a small bus line between San Rafael and Novato, it would be nice to "have complete freedom in picking my passengers — no Jews, Catholics or Orientals. As a private businessman, I have complete freedom in selling space on the bus."

But we don't all own buses. Sometimes we are passengers. Supposing you handed the driver your 25 cents, and he said: "Sorry, we don't take people of your race."

You'd probably say, "Whaddya mean! My two bits is as good as the next guy's This is a free country isn't it?"

The bus owner could tell you, "Sure, this is a free country. That's why I have complete freedom to choose my passengers. Now, get out!"

This example has nothing to do with housing. But my point is this: In discussing Proposition 14, think of yourself as a renter or buyer, not just the owner. As the old saying goes, you have the right to swing your arms, but your fist should end where the other fellow's nose begins.

In weighing both sides—owner as well as buyer—I've come to the conclusion that existing "fair housing" laws should be retained. That, in brief, would be my reason for voting "NO" on Proposition 14.

Americans Should Stay Awake!

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last week a young man, in his letter, said that to compare freedom and socialism is like comparing hot and green. The point that freedom and socialism are not direct opposites is well taken, but his comparison could better have been "hot and naked."

Hot and naked are not direct opposites either, but naked can certainly imply cold. So socialism can imply slavery, since with it comes a loss of many of the freedoms Americans take for granted.

Though he is no longer in power, I'm reminded that Khrushchev said, "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from capitalism to communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of socialism until they suddenly awake to find they have communism."

Ron Clausen Is For Don

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It has been my good fortune to have worked with Congressman Don Clausen. As a previous president of the Marin County Teen-age Republicans and a state officer in the California Federation of TARs, Congressman Clausen's path and mine have crossed on many occasions.

My impression of Don is that of a conscientious, progressive Republican. He has served his district well. In Marin County alone, under his leadership over $135,000 has been acquired to initiate a much needed flood control investigation and design, $14 million has been appropriated for acquisition and development of Point Reyes National Seashore, progress has been made in stepping up freeway construction to release commuter traffic congestions, and the trees of the Point Reyes National Seashore have been saved from decimation.

Having worked with Don Clausen in his campaign, seen him in action in Washington, D. C., and closely followed his voting record in Congress, I am overwhelmingly impressed. . . .

. . . I know that I will be home on election day campaigning for my good friend, and I am confident that the citizens of District 1 will give their most enthusiastic support to the re-election of a most competent congressman: Don Clausen.

Transit Measure Passage Urged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As a resident of Marin, dependent upon bus service, I would like to urge the passage of Proposition B on the Marin voters' ballot.

We, of Marin, badly need to form a Transit District. Some solution must be found to better our inconvenient and inadequate transit system within Marin as well as to and from San Francisco. . . . The situation is not going to better itself. It will only get worse. We must step in now to assure future residents of Marin the convenience and adequacy of modern transit systems.

Plea For 'No' On Prop. 14

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Under present California law, I, a homeowner, have limited property rights. . . .

When it comes time to sell my property, I also have rights. I can refuse to sell to someone I don't think can keep up the payments. I can refuse to sell to a policeman or a prostitute or a preacher. But, since the financing on my home is publicly assisted, I can't refuse to sell to a person solely on the grounds that he is Japanese, Hindu, Italian, Methodist, Negro, or Quaker. . . .

Much the same requirements are now placed on those in the business of renting out property. . . .

This, in brief, is the present law. . . .

Because we refused to treat other men as our brothers, because we refused to see that everyone is our neighbor, laws were passed. . . .

But there are people in this state who think that our present laws are wrong. In part, they are right. No perfect law has ever been passed by man. And men don't even agree on what is divine law. . . .

. . . Let us all, those of us who believe in the brotherhood of man, in love for our neighbors, vote no on Proposition 14. Let's not be afraid to improve our laws, but let us pass no law giving one man "absolute discretion" to hurt another.

Against Passage Of Prop. 17

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The passage of Proposition 17 would deprive the State Public Utilities Commission and the State Legislature of any voice in determining the minimum number of crew members necessary for safe operation of railroad trains within this State. The power to establish safety standards would be transferred from representatives of the public to the railroads themselves. In other words, those being regulated would do the regulating.

If the railroad lobby can accomplish this, it will be a long step back to the good old pre-Hiram Johnson days when the Southern Pacific Railroad ran the State of California.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

TIM MULDOON was a tavern owner who once had been a heavyweight contender, and fancied himself as a rare wit. His bar was next door to the firehouse, and every time the fire fighters were called out, he thought it was very funny to block the path of the engine and holler, "What's your hurry, boys? Going to a fire?"

One afternoon he pulled his usual imbecile trick—but this time, instead of waving him angrily aside, the chief ordered the fire engine stopped, climbed down and answered quietly, "You're absolutely right, Muldoon. It's a fire we're going to—and I understand that it's a bad one." Then he walked slowly back to his post, and, as a seeming afterthought, remarked, "By the way, it's your residence that's on fire!"

Connecticut's Senator Dodd Gets Backing From Opposites

WASHINGTON — A senator from one of the smallest states has inspired an amazingly diverse backing for his re-election. He is Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut.

Did you think you would ever see such consistent opposites as Dean Acheson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, former chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, line up on the same side of a political decision?

Or Walter Robertson, former assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and authors Harry and Bonaro Overstreet; or the sports world's conservative Republican, Gene Tunney, and the entertainment world's very liberal Democrat, Steve Allen, all eagerly joined together behind the same candidate?

THERE IS SOME precedent —but nothing quite like it. One partial parallel occurred in 1950 when Robert Taft was seeking his third senatorial term. After the labor leaders threw in large resources to defeat him, many out-of-state pro-Taft Republicans came to his aid with financial and political support.

But this national, non-partisan—or tri-partisan—National Committee for Dodd is something rather special. It includes Democrats, Republicans and independents. It spans the ideological spectrum from political liberal to economic conservative. It includes businessmen and labor leaders. It draws its support from different parts of the country from the Pacific Coast to Washington, D. C.—from those who know Dodd personally to those who know him only by reputation.

WHY THIS remarkable backing? I feel quite sure it has little or nothing to do with the character and capacity of his opponent—the former governor of Connecticut, John Lodge, who served as ambassador to Spain in the Eisenhower administration. Lodge is an able and experienced public official and the voters of Connecticut are fortunate to have the opportunity to choose between two such good men.

But there must be some special common objective which brings together such often divergent people as Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, Eugene Lyons, author of the best biography ever written on Herbert Hoover, and Dr. George N. Shuster of Notre Dame on the one hand, and Adolf A. Berle Jr., Elmo Roper, and Leo Cherne, on the other.

The tie that binds them is that they are all strong, implacable anti-Communists who believe so deeply in human freedom that they want to press the cold war, even with some risk, to extend the boundaries of freedom. Their decision to help keep Dodd in office stems from the senator's long, sometimes lonely, courageous leadership in behalf of a U. S. foreign policy which has as its prime purpose resolving the causes of the cold war, not just tamping down its tensions.

AND THERE is something more. They believe that Dodd's way of fighting communism is a unifying force within both parties and within the nation, and among both liberals and conservatives.

Dodd isn't against negotiating limited agreements. He is for such agreements as when he led the way in support of a partial test ban.

But he does not believe it is imprudent or riskful to use the whole range of American influence and pressure to stop the Soviet Union from interfering in the internal affairs of other nations. This is why he opposes enlarging our trade with the Communist countries unless it is accompanied by concessions from the Communist side.

Dodd has signally proved that a liberal can be a powerful anti-Communist and that a powerful anti-Communist does not have to be against making limited agreements with the adversary.

Russ Aiding Cyprus; Barry 'Bomb' Due

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

Russian-made mortars, light artillery, rifles, small arms, communication and motor equipment are arriving almost daily aboard Russian and Egyptian aircraft and Soviet bloc ships.

ACCORDING TO THE latest U. S. intelligence estimate now on President Lyndon B. Johnson's desk, these arms will be followed by a Soviet military training mission similar to the one that preceded the shipment of IRBMs to Cuba.

This two-faced Russian policy, negotiated with Cyprus leaders while Nikita Khrushchev was premier, has backed Johnson into a corner from which he doesn't know where to turn. The new Soviet arms venture also has split the president's policy-makers down the middle on what the U. S. should do.

With the election only a week away, the president's chief foreign and political advisers, led by McGeorge Bundy, his national security counselor, are urging him to follow a "wait and see" policy — the same line that lost China, Cuba and Zanzibar to Communist rule.

THESE "SOFT LINE" advisers argue that if the U. S. moves to block the Soviet arms shipments before Nov. 3, many voters might construe the action as confirming GOP challenger Barry Goldwater's charge that the new Kremlin leaders can't be trusted and that the administration's policy of "accommodation" toward Russia isn't working.

These military advisers, concerned about the military threat a Soviet-controlled Cyprus would pose for NATO defenses, are warning that if the arms shipments aren't stopped the island could go the way of Cuba "within a matter of weeks."

REPUBLICAN challenger Barry Goldwater is going to drop another atomic bombshell in the presidential campaign.

In one of his final-week speeches, Goldwater will reveal that President Johnson has pre-designated a number of key officials to "conduct and terminate" nuclear attacks should be become disabled.

Goldwater will base his statement on a National Security Council paper titled "Presidential Control of Nuclear Weapons."

While most of the details of the paper cannot be revealed for security reasons, the following highlights are publishable:

"The planning and design of U. S. strategic forces should increasingly offer a wide range of options, at alternative levels of violence and against alternative target systems, which the president or authorities designated by him could review in advance and choose among in the event of war.

Police Are Told To Smile When Photographed With Demonstrators

Most private citizens look out the corners of their eyes as they pass a picket line. They're sort of afraid to admit they're interested in what the fuss is all about, lest they be tabbed as interested in some cause.

When the picket, sit-in or what-have-you is hot enough to make the headlines, television and radio, though, the average Mr. Anonymous laps up all the information he can get about what's going on—even though probably not why.

WHAT FEW FOLKS realize is what a battle of the wits a demonstration is. The demonstrator is taking action because he or she wants to plant an impression in the public mind . . . an idea that somebody's being unfairly treated.

Most action-minded persons also seem to find it convenient to use demonstrations as an opportunity to "bug the fuzz." Show up the law enforcement forces, that is.

The point was brought home to us the other day as we sat in on a seminar for Marin County law enforcement officers. Deputy State Atty. Gen. Raymond Momboisse, "the man who wrote the book" for police handling of demonstrations and riots, was the speaker.

HE STRESSED that police must use camera and tape recorder, so the confusion of the San Francisco City Hall riots against the House Un-American Activities Committee can be avoided when cases come to trial. He suggested use of color film and other methods to make identification easier.

But then:

"SMILE, ON CAMERA, while you're taking photos of arrested demonstrators," Momboisse told the lawmen. "That way, the person arrested will usually smile, too—and no defense attorney is going to be able to holler 'police brutality' at the jury, on the strength of those pictures.

"You can usually tell what's going to happen," said the prosecutor, by how demonstrators dress up for the affair. "At the Cow Palace (GOP National Convention) they came dressed in their best bib and tucker." The relieved police concluded the young pickets would be orderly—and they mostly were.

Don't forget, the demonstrators will be making their own photos and recordings — and any police officer who succumbs to angry reaction under the taunts and fatiguing tactics will be right there on film for the world—or at least the jury—to see, Momboisse added.

HE RECALLED that Sacramento authorities were, to put it mildly, petrified, when the young would-be feminine participants in one intended demonstration showed up.

Police promptly interpreted this to mean that there would be a sit-in, with the participants forcing police to carry them out. If there was any struggling, there'd be some pretty spectacular photos—and some pretty red-faced gendarmes.

The solution decided upon was to commandeer all the wheeled stretchers available. The arresting officers would roll them up to the arrest site, strap the arrestees in, and wheel 'em to the paddy wagon.

We don't know whether the strategy would work or not—the grievance was settled and the lightly-clad demonstrators coolly went home.

HAL BOYLE

Bores Are Where You Find Them —Even In Your Own Office

The cocktail party is supposed to be the natural habitat of the bore in the United States, but he proliferates in other places, too—the average business office, for example.

If you look around your own office you may find typical the following indoor bores that make up part of the curse of the working class:

HARRY HOARY—Old Harry has been with the company 99 years or so and remembers when he had to ride to work by horseback and fight bears on the way. Harry has kept his jaws so busy telling how tough life was in the old days that he hasn't got around to doing his job since 1947, the year of the big snow.

PERRY PARASITE — This touring termite circles the office all day stealing whatever he needs — from paper clips to ideas. Whatever he needs to help him get by, he takes from others. He would rather purloin a pencil off your desk than go sharpen one himself. In any decent civilization Perry would be behind bars as a petty larcenist.

BASIL BIGEARS — After Basil was rejected by the CIA, he became the self-appointed office spy. He hangs around the men's washroom and whenever one of the hired hands denounces management because of the poor quality of the paper towels, he runs to the personnel director and informs.

GLORENE HELLER — This twitchy little dame thinks of herself as a femme fatale. She can't keep her mind on the job, or her hands off the boys. Whenever one of the married men dictates a letter to her, he has an uneasy feeling he is about to be caught in a love nest. But after six months she elopes with a plumber.

J. MORGAN GASSER — J. Morgan is a junior executive who has decided honey catches more flies than vinegar—and so does banana oil. His weapon is praise. But instead of making himself popular, J. Morgan is regarded as the biggest creep in the place. Because everyone knows he couldn't be as good as J. Morgan says he is.

ANDY HANDY—Andy is a hobbyist bore who wants you to share his joy. One week he collects old lamp posts, the next week he is learning to make hooked rugs with his teeth. "You can do it, too — it's easy," he says.

SAMUEL STONEHEART — "Chuckling Sam," as the big boss is known behind his back, is the king of tedium for only one reason: Whenever you ask him for a merit raise, he comes up with 12 reasons why he can't give you one, including the fact that if your work doesn't improve the firm may fail within the year.

Do you recognize any of these familiar office bores? If you do, remember one thing.

Hub Planners Due Requests

The San Anselmo Planning Commission will consider two variance requests and a subdivision map at 8 p.m. Monday at city hall.

Harlan Floyd wants a variance to build a carport ramp from the property line to the house at 18 Spruce Avenue. The other variance request comes from W. A. DeCook, for a parking deck with no frontyard setback, at a house on Spring Grove Avenue.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Oct. 29, the 303rd day of 1964 with 63 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Jupiter, Mars and Venus. The evening stars are Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1923, Turkey became a republic.

In 1940 Secertary of War Henry Stimson drew a number from a bowl, and the first peace time draft had started.

A thought for the day—Mark Twain said: "One of the most striking differences between a cat and a lie is that a cat has only nine lives.

TIME AND TIDE

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Learn To Find Best Defense From Opening Lead At Bridge

"Please settle a partnership disagreement," requests a reader.

"There's no question about the best defense as the cards lie, but we don't know how East can be sure of the best play when he sees only his own hand and the dummy."

Opening lead — ♠ K

"West opened the king of spades, and East thought for a long time but then played low. West switched to a low club, which rode around to South's queen.

KNOCKS ACE

"Declarer then knocked out the ace of trumps, and it was all over. No matter what happened now, declarer could draw trumps and discard his clubs on dummy's good diamonds.

"During the post mortem, East said he thought of overtaking the king of spades with the ace but wasn't sure whether to return a club or a diamond. A diamond return would be vital if West had a singleton diamond and a weaker club holding than K-J.

"East let his partner win the first trick so that he could switch to a diamond himself if he had a singleton. If West did not have a singleton diamond, he might be able to lead clubs safely by himself.

TWO CLUBS

"Was there a way for East to know that it was imperative for him to win the first trick with the ace of spades and return a club?"

If West had a singleton diamond and ten black cards, he would probably bid five spades instead of letting South play the hand at five hearts. He would expect to be down one at most, and he would be worried about losing the rubber if South made five hearts.

The nature of the lead furnishes another clue. In view of the bidding, West could hardly expect to defeat five hearts with spade tricks alone.

OPEN SINGLETON

Neither clue was a certainty taken by itself, but the combination of both clues should have persuaded East to take the first trick with the ace of spades and return the 10 of clubs.

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You have 11 points in high cards and one point for the doubleton. You would open a 12-point hand with a good major suit and two and one-half quick tricks, but not when your suit is minor and when you have only two quick tricks.

Annexation Of Loma Verde May Cost $7.50 Per Home

(This is the second of two articles on the Ignacio-Loma Verde annexation to the City of Novato on Nov. 3 general election ballot. This article deals with the arguments for the annexation.)

By THERON A. NEWELL

When Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. officers asked for a study of feasibility of annexing to the City of Novato, they were not sure whether they favored it.

"We wanted to make a study of it and then decide whether it should be submitted to the voters," said John E. Frederick, president.

The report by William R. Zion was submitted to the homeowners in April. It advocated that the area annex to Novato to get better public services.

Loma Verde would get better police protection, a recreation program, and better street maintenance and sweeping, according to the Zion report.

It would cost approximately $7.50 more per household per year in taxes. Zion reported that the increased income to the City of Novato from Loma Verde would be approximately the same as it cost the city to serve the area.

This report convinced leaders of the Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. that annexation was the best thing for the area.

A committee, with Norman Roderick, past president of the homeowners association, as chairman, was formed to push annexation. The Committee for Community Progress has as its other members John Park, Dr. Robert Patocchi, Mrs. Ralph T. Nattress, Dr. Daniel Aughney, Mrs. John Tindell, and Frederick.

The committee's aim was to present information on annexation to the voters of the area. To this end it has prepared and sent out five "fact sheets."

County Administrator, Alan Bruce, in his report to the Local Agency Formation Commission on the proposed annexation, said: "The fully developed areas of Loma Verde should be provided with regular municipal type services available in the area only from the City of Novato."

The Loma Verde County Service Area must be dissolved if the annexation is effected, Bruce reported. This county services area last year levied a tax of 19 cents per $100 assessed valuation, while that of the City of Novato was 34 cents.

"Unlike the City of Novato keeping special funds for its community service district (Monte Maria), the money left in the Loma Verde fund each year has reverted back to the county general fund," Roderick said. "Approximately $2,000 of our money was lost to the county general fund."

Loma Verde, with its 2,000 people, would have a larger percentage voice in Novato with its 25,000 people than in Marin County with its 180,000 people, the committee contends.

This voice would be heard in such matters as city planning to "protect the beautiful hills that surround us that are in the City of Novato."

Zion noted annexation would give the residents of the area more participation in local government. The committee has also emphasized this aspect.

"Another thing, if Loma Verde annexes to Novato, it will be the largest city in Marin County and therefore have a big voice in county affairs," Roderick said.

Annexation will not affect fire protection, water, sanitation, library service, or schools, as all are operated by separate districts.

Annexation of Ignacio, which has only about a dozen voters, was lumped with that of Loma Verde for the election next Tuesday.

"Nobody will question that Ignacio has had a colorful history and that that history should be preserved in names and places. There was a time when Ignacio stood for much more than it does now. It could have incorporated and claimed Hamilton Air Force Base, thus making it an imposing city in its own right. Nobody opened the door when opportunity knocked. Novato took the lead and surrounded Ignacio on three sides."

Backers of the annexation feel confident that they will win the election. They feel that the majority of the people in Loma Verde are back of them.

Cattle Market Future Studied

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Economist Ed Uvacek of Texas A and M believes a cattle futures market bay be the way to stabilize the livestock industry.

Uvacek said most segments of the industry feel there is a need for a future market in livestock, but do not fully understand how it can best be used.

To find out, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange has hired a private consulting firm to study the possibilities of such a market.

Market Working On Coin Shortage

RIDGECREST (UPI) — The K and R Market here figured out a way to beat the current coin shortage. The market offered 100 trading stamps to any customer bringing in $20 in change.

The score at the end of the first day: $2,000 in coins, 10,000 Orange stamps distributed.

Five Candidates In Harbor District Race

Bolinas and Stinson Beach residents will vote Tuesday for two persons to fill vacancies on the Bolinas Harbor District Commission.

Five candidates are in the race which, according to commission treasurer Harriet M. Greene, is the largest number to run since district formation in 1956. Seats to be filled are those of Gene W. McDaniel, a candidate for re-election, and Siebert L. Sefton, who has moved to Orinda.

McDaniel, chairman and on the commission since its formation, is a real estate salesman for Frank Howard Allen and son, San Anselmo.

David S. Edwards, a retired Navy captain, has served two terms as Bolinas Community Inc. president and is now a director. He was director for Stinson Beach and Bolinas United Crusade in 1963, and is a member of Bolinas post 572, American Legion. Edwards claims he is familiar with harbors and ports from New Zealand to Alaska and from Piraeus to Colombo.

Edward G. Letter is a director of Bolinas Community Inc. and a Bolinas volunteer fireman. A hardware salesman in San Francisco, he has lived in Bolinas 18 months and owned property there 10 years.

Thomas R. Tawns, the only Stinson Beach candidate, was a founder of the Bolinas Bay Harbor and Park Assn., which organization was active until formation of the harbor district. He remains secretary of the association. Tawns owns Western Marin Building Supply at Stinson Beach and is a real estate broker.

Soldier Has 'Old' Hobby

Foreign Language Tests Planned At Eight Campuses

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, has announced that proficiency tests in foreign languages will be given early next year to assist local school districts in obtaining competent teachers for the courses which become compulsory next September.

Rafferty said the proficiency tests will be given in eight California colleges and universities during January, February March and April in French, German, Italian, Russian and Spanish.

The tests are designed to measure competency in reading, speaking, writing and understanding the language. In addition, applied linguistics, civilization and culture and teaching procedures will be tested.

Passing the tests will meet one requirement for a California credential to teach the language in public schools in California.

Names of persons passing the tests will be furnished to school districts and county school offices.

The test schedule will be as follows: Fresno State College, Jan. 30, March 27; Occidental College, Jan. 23, March 6; San Diego State College, Jan. 23, March 27; San Fernando Valley State College, Feb. 1, March 27; San Francisco State College, Jan. 30, April 3; San Jose State College, Jan. 23, March 27; Stanford University, Jan. 30, March 27; University of Southern California, Jan. 30, March 13.

Coach Jess Neely has coached four of the six championship teams produced by Rice University.

Dutch Exchange Girl Fits In Easily As Drake High Student

By TINA PRESS
Drake High School Student

Tilleke Schwarz is a pert brunette with a lively smile.

She has studied judo.

And she is Sir Francis Drake High School's foreign exchange student from Holland.

Tilleke has fit easily into the life at Drake High. "In Holland we have no school clubs, only sports clubs. The activities are important. I think if you do only homework, you are crazy," she declares.

Tilleke is a member of Art Club and of Drake Diplomats, the organization to promote friendship through understanding.

She is studying Spanish (she already speaks English, French, German, and Dutch), American government, English, public speaking, and design. Her most active outside interest is drawing.

While Tilleke agrees that teenagers in the United States are the same as those in Holland, she noticed that there is much more active interest in politics here. She said that in Holland students' discussions often center on art, in America it is commonly politics and government.

"Studying American government is hard to get used to," said Tilleke. "The other kids know so much."

The custom in America she's found the most enjoyable? Tilleke answered without hesitation: "Ice cream—we found a shop with 31 flavors!" But then she added, "I miss Dutch licorice. We can get 50 'tastes' of it at home."

Tilleke's high school in Holland has only 500 students and attending Drake with an enrollment of more than 1,600 has overwhelmed her. "My class was only about 70; we knew everyone. It's awfully big here," she exclaimed.

Tilleke has already graduated from the Dutch counterpart of American high schools. "At the end of five years' study, we take exams on everything we have learned," she said. "We must remember everything for one week." She added that there are "thousands of parties to celebrate the end of the exams."

Teen-agers in Holland are familiar with American popular music. "The same records which we listen to at home are popular here, too," said Tilleke. And yes, the omnipresent Beatles are also favorites there.

"Not nearly as many kids own cars at home; we ride bicycles all the time. I guess that's not possible here—too many hills!"

Machine Gives Sales Forecast

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — A University of Alabama marketing researcher has developed a method by which a computer can calculate a sales forecast in less than half on hour.

The job formerly took several days. Dr. Morris Mayer, associate professor of marketing and a developer of the new system, said sales forecasting is the bedrock foundation of all retail decisions.

The forecast helps management decide on merchandise and operating expense budgets, projected personnel needs and changes in physical facilities.

PROPOSITION 17 makes it possible for California to put into effect the national transportation settlements—worked out by Congress and Presidents Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson—which eliminate wasteful featherbedding in the railroad industry under terms that insure maximum job protection, yet retain two men in the cab of all trains.

These settlements are now in effect in most states—but not in California because of a conflicting "horse and buggy days" law which Proposition 17 repeals.

German Finds It Honor To Like School In U.S.

By LINDA SIEM
Drake High School Student

"In America it is an honor to like school; at home it is an honor to hate it."

This was the major difference that Andreas Weitbrecht, American Field Service exchange student at Sir Francis Drake High School, found between Germany and the United States.

Andreas, better known to fellow Drake students as Andy, has noticed that the American students' life is based on school.

"We only go to school from 8 'til 1, and there is no such thing as school spirit, school paper, football games, clubs, colors, rallies or self-government," he related.

Andy is taking advantage of the clubs offered at Drake. He is vice president of the Radio-Electronics Club and the Drake Diplomats. He is also a mem- of the Representative Assembly, German Club, and the Model United Nations delegation.

Andy is a challenge to all the linguists at Drake. He is familiar with six languages: German, Latin, Greek, English, Italian and French.

A new experience for Andy is dating, American style. In Germany, a boy calls a girl and tells her he will be in front of her door in a half-hour. In America, Andy finds he has to give the female about two days' notice and know exactly where he is going to take her.

Also, Andy has to conform to the new types of dating. He had never been to a swimming party until he came to America, for only the elite have pools in Germany.

He was fascinated by the uniqueness of Chinatown, and he is looking forward to seeing San Francisco's famous Broadway.

In writing home, Andy mentioned three things which have impressed him greatly: Driving, phoning and television.

German youths are not allowed to drive until they are 18, so the great amount of driving by students which he found in Marin delighted him.

As for talking on the phone, Andy is having a hard time beating the hour record of his American "brother," Perry Hedin. "I never am able to talk longer than a half-hour with my friends," Andy said in a voice of disappointment.

So far Andy isn't homesick. "I am having such a busy and exciting time I haven't had the time to think about Germany."

Psychology Club

Bill Camp, San Rafael, has been elected president of the College of Marin Psychology Club for the fall semester, with Kathee Murdock as vice president and Beth Feeney as secretary-treasurer. Pat Howland, Irene Riston, Ramona McMullen and Diana Hill are steering committee members.

Neighbor Races To Catch Baby

SAN JOSE (AP)—A contractor spotted an infant teetering on a second floor window yesterday, sprinted 25 yards and caught her in his arms a few feet from the ground.

Police said Collene Talbert, 15 months, had been playing on a bed next to the window.

The dash was made by Ted Galeb, a neighbor. Witnesses said he was so shaken by the experience that he had to be driven the two blocks to his home. The baby escaped without a scratch.

Liquor License Is Turned Down

Peacock Gap Country Club has been denied an application for a duplicate on-sale general liquor license at its yacht club at McNear's Beach.

The State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, in denying the application, noted the duplicate premises involved are completely separate from the main clubhouse.

Club officials disagree and will appeal to the alcoholic beverage control board, said club manager Ralph M. Woodworth.

The department also turned down an application from Robert N. Park for an on-sale general liquor license at the Surf Club, on Highway 1 just outside Stinson Beach, saying the applicant had a record of insobriety and had not submitted necessary documents with the application.

Most Voters To Be Using Long Ballot

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Machines will do more work in recording and counting ballots on election day 1964 than ever before in California history.

But automation in the voting booth still will be available to only 1,508,943 of the state's 8,184,151 registered voters.

Elsewhere, it's that long old paper ballot, and equally long hours of counting votes with the aid of paid workers or unpaid volunteers.

This can be great for the coffee growers, but hectic for citizens staying up election night trying to find out who won what before they go to bed.

Who will ever forget election night 1960, when the returns far into the night indicated the late John F. Kennedy would capture California. Eight days later, after traditionally Republican absentee ballots were counted, used for years in San Francisco Richard Nixon won California by 33,000 votes.

Voting machines have been and San Mateo counties. This year, either mechanized voting machines or vote counters also will be used in San Joaqin, Riverside, Orange, Contra Costa counties and the City of Monterey.

Two types of voting machines and two varieties of ballot scanners will tackle ballots.

The newest is the Harris Votomatic, approved in July by the State Commission on Voting Machines and Vote Tabulating Devices. It is the size of a briefcase, costs $125, uses a metal stylus to punch the voter's choice and is counted by computers.

Then there's the Votronics Vote Counter, which its maker says will count 400 ballots in 15 minutes. It counts paper ballots, as does the Coleman Vote Tabulating System, which will also be used.

Aside from speeding the count, machines also save money, require fewer workers and are nearly foolproof.

Marin Due Only Fraction Of Record Highway Funds

Marin County is due for only a fraction of a per cent in a record-breaking $612,432,000 construction program proposed for California roads in the 1965-66 fiscal year by the State Division of Highways.

Marin County projects proposed total only $1,475,000, which is .24 per cent of the total state program.

The budget, adopted today (Thursday) by the California Highway Commission, will add 350 miles of new freeway and increase the number of lanes on 37 miles of existing freeway.

The new budget is up 34 million dollars over the existing 1964-65 budget. It includes 432 million dollars for major construction and improvement and 158 million dollars for rights of way.

Marin's proposed projects are $610,000 for extension of Tiburon Boulevard as a four-lane road for one mile from Blackfield Drive to Reed Ranch Road; $65,000 for a parking lot on the west side of Highway 101 at the Golden Gate Bridge approach to allow southbound motorists to park and walk on an existing ramp to Vista Point, and $800,000 for rights of way purchase.

A spokesman for the division of highways said the right of way allocation includes several purchased scattered along the state system throughout Marin. He could give no break-down.

In addition to the 612 million dollars for construction and land purchase throughout the state, the budget would provide $79,200,000 for purposes other than construction, such as maintenance.

There is also $149,401,000 earmarked for functions not under state highway jurisdiction. These include $72,502,857 for construction and rights of way for streets and roads and $50,492,857 for improvement and maintenance of city streets.

The budget would include $317,442,281 in federal funds of which $266,988,400 would be used toward completion of the state's share of the national, interstate system. There are 2,173 miles of freeway in this system in the state. Federal law requires completion by 1972.

The budget was sent to Gov. Edmund G. Brown by Robert B. Bradford, chairman of the highway commission and administrator of the Highway Transportation Agency.

He said progress in California on the Interstate Freeway System is on schedule except in San Francisco.

"We placed our early interstate monies on freeway routes in the more expensive metropolitan areas where traffic volumes were greatest. Now we are concentrating on interstate projects connecting these metropolitan areas and on long sections in more rural and desert areas," Bradford said.

Maguire Pupils Headed By Girl

Ellen Rosenthal was elected president of the student body at Mill Valley's Edna Maguire School yesterday, the first girl to hold the office since the school opened eight years ago.

An eighth grader, Ellen ran on a platform of "more garbage cans, more greenery and more vending machines for soft drinks."

Anita Lutz, eighth grade, was elected vice president; Patricia Petzar, seventh grade secretary, and Franklin Foisie, seventh, treasurer.

"This bodes evil," said Principal Dominic Bobbio jokingly, adding he hopes it doesn't portend a feminine trend in national elections in the future.

Mill Valley Dance

The Mill Valley Youth Council will hold a dance for members only at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Municipal Golf Clubhouse to music of the Mill Valley band, the Trolls, Les Mize, council co-director, said today.

MARIN COUNTY REPUBLICANS FOR JOHNSON

1317 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael
Richard D. Orton, Chairman, 1024 F Los Gamos, San Rafael
Pierre Austin, Treas., 18 Mt. McKinley Rd., San Rafael

PREHISTORIC MARINE MAMMAL

Preliminary Forgery Hearing Is Waived

Preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court was waived yesterday by Lawrence Wilbur Stanley, 34, of Novato, charged with six counts of forgery. He was scheduled for arraignment in Marin Superior Court at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Stanley, of 805 Diablo Avenue, was arrested Oct. 14 by Novato police. He allegedly passed forged checks of amounts ranging from $20 to $30 in Novato from August into October.

Photographer Bry's Works On Exhibit

Michael E. Bry of 215 Bridgeway, Sausalito, is one of five photographers represented in an exhibit called "Our San Francisco" at the San Francisco Museum of Art until Nov. 22.

The exhibit has the same title as a book by the five photographers soon to be issued. Bry's section of the book is titled "The Bay." The other photographers are Ernest Braun, Phiz Mozesson, Jacqueline Paul and Jerry Stoll.

Rebels Capture Cleric In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — An American missionary has been captured by Communist-backed rebels and is awaiting trial by a military tribunal, a rebel broadcast says.

The missionary, Dr. Paul Carlson, 36, of Rolling Hills, Calif., has been in the Congo 14 months. Rebel warriors captured him Sept. 20 at Yakoma on the northern frontier, according to a communique issued by Christophe Gbenye, self-proclaimed president of the Congolese People's Republic in Stanleyville.

The rebels claimed Carlson was a major in the U.S. armed forces, but U.S. Embassy officials say his only military experience was a two-year hitch in the Navy.

Woman Driver Gets Bruise In Collision

Barbara J. Doyle, 32, of 1209 Chase Street, Novato, was treated for a bruise on her head at Marin General Hospital after a two-car accident at 3:15 a.m. yesterday at Francisco Boulevard and Vivian Way, south of San Rafael.

The California Highway Patrol reported the Doyle car collided with one driven by David G. Wheeler, 32, of Walnut Creek, as Wheeler was headed north on Francisco Boulevard and Mrs. Doyle was going west on Vivian Way.

Only one-fifth of the fatal accidents among men who represent the major part of the nation's labor force, occur on the job or from causes arising from his employment.

A message to the voters of the First Marin District

In the heat of a political campaign we expect some mis-statements of fact and some half-truths, but statements made by the appointed Supervisor for the 1st District of Marin show not only a lack of knowledge of past and present programs, but a complete disregard for the truth in statements concerning these programs.

We have worked diligently and sincerely to create the present sound fiscal position of San Rafael. We believe we have planned well for the future.

Supervisor Leydecker says, that we have spent recklessly and planned poorly. This is not the case, the evidence is to the contrary. When the late Walter Castro served this District, he worked constructively with us and for us.

Supervisor Leydecker has not been cooperative or interested in our work, and in fact, has not even been friendly.

John F. McInnis has worked with us and represented us well in many circumstances and for many years. We admire his ability and integrity as a public official and we honor him as a man.

We would like to work with him as a member of the Board of Supervisors and ask you the voters of this District to join us in voting for him.

WHERE DO THEY COME FROM?
(we refer to home buyers)
- The largest percentage of home buyers (71.9%)* who buy homes in the Novato Area are ALREADY living in Marin County.
- And the PRIME MEDIUM for reaching Marin families is the Independent-Journal, COVERING 2 OUT OF EVERY 3 HOMES in the county.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED.
- In the I-J, your sales message goes where the GREATEST NUMBER of BUYERS are.
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.
- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves.
- SOURCE: "A Survey on the Origins of Home Buyers in Marin County," conducted by the Marin County Abstract and Title Company.

HOMES IN THE WOODS
The great success story in homes last Spring was the enormous reception given the superb collection of homes in Glenwood Forest. These 73 homes, sheltered in a natural cul-de-sac of rolling tree-covered hills, were gone within 3 months. To those who came too late, we promised a similar limited collection of homes nearby. Now we are keeping this promise. Magnificent 3 and 4 bedroom homes with 2 and 3 baths, spacious living room and enormous family room, beautifully situated among green hills thick with trees. Adjacent to the Peacock Gap Golf & Country Club. New Glenwood Forest is only 7 minutes from downtown San Rafael. Of course, if you were not looking for a home at that time, and were unaware there was a Glenwood Forest, you're in for a rare treat. New Glenwood Forest is even more desireable.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Day In Court' Now Simply Soap Opera

By RICK du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It is irritating to watch how ABC-TV's respectable afternoon show, "Day in Court," has been turned into a soap opera in the current network trend toward serials.

The major destruction of the program's past concept is being brought about this week, with the beginning of a 10-part continuing story. Notable by his absence as of this week, because of his rejection of the new formula, is the man who used to be the star and the main reason for watching "Day in Court," Edgar Allan Lones Jr., professor of law at the University of California at Los Angeles, and formerly a "judge" on the series.

"Day in Court" and television have lost a remarkable performer in Jones. There was no better ad-libber in the video medium—and it was necessary, for the program's authenticity, that he be accomplished in this area. For it was Jones' belief that though the shows and cases were thoroughly researched by top students, tones and innuendoes could give different impressions and lead to different conclusions when acted out—and, to react naturally and with legal logic, he would often ad-lib, even decisions, requiring sharp reactions from his casts.

Jones is not only a noted ad-libber, law professor and labor arbitrator, but writes a pretty sound press release as well. He wrote his own press release when he decided to leave "Day in Court," and sent it to newsmen. A sample of his work: "The 'Day in Court' program is shifting its emphasis from authenticity to dramatics. . . . Jones gave 'Day in Court' a basic orientation toward educating the lay public about the workings of a trial court, emphasizing dignity of conduct and soundness of content."

Furthermore, Jones pointed out in his release that during his tenure as "judge" and legal consultant, the series "received the American Bar Assn. Gavel Award and a Freedoms Foundation Award for its success in educating the American people to an increased understanding and acceptance of the rule of law." Several years ago, Jones told this viewer, "my lifetime career is that of a law teacher. If I had to give up teaching or the show, I'd give up the show without any hesitancy." He's a man of his word.

Dinah Shore, as hostess, yesterday presided over the first of three one-hour daytime drama specials she is presenting for women on ABC-TV.

This first show supposedly dealt with a child molester—but it begged the question at hand because it turned out the accused fellow wasn't a molester after all. Nina Foch played a lady lawyer who got him off the hook. The messages about molesters, and about how children should be warned, were so obvious that the program exuded the flavor of a drama that was exploiting a sensational subject in the guise of enlightenment.

Viewers who watched ABC-TV's "Mickey" series last night may not have been aware that Sammee Tong, one of its featured players and one of the most likeable characters on television, died Tuesday at the age of 63.

The San Francisco-born Chinese-American previously appeared in the "Bachelor Father" series and won many fans by his comic abilities. Sammee was the cousin of another Oriental performer with a wide video following, Kam Tong, who played "Hey-Boy" on Richard Boone's "Have Gun, Will Travel" show.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV's "Today" program for Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26, plans to show how American armed forces in Western Europe will spend the holiday . . . Dean Burch, chairman of the GOP National Committee, and Kenneth O'Donnell, executive director of the Democratic National Committee, appear on ABC-TV's "issues and answers" Sunday to discuss whether international problems or domestic morality matters will be key factors in Tuesday's election . . . Joey Bishop guests with NBC-TV's Jack Benny Nov. 20 . . . Elsa Lanchester portrays an alcoholic wife in a 19th Century story on the same network's Alfred Hitchcock Hour Nov. 23.

Collecting License Plates Is Hobby

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — What started as a repair project has developed into an interesting hobby for H.C. Taylor.

It began when he decided to use old automobile license plates as covering for a children's playhouse. Taylor got so interested in the plates that he decided to save them and now has more than 3,000 old tags—one from every state and several from foreign countries.

Auto Workers Back On Job

VAN NUYS (UPI)—About 3,300 workers at the Chevrolet and Fisher body plants returned to their regular job assignments today following ratification of a local agreement between the United Auto Workers Union and General Motors.

UAW members voted on the contract yesterday and agreed to the terms. The night shift at the General Motors parts warehouse was called back last night.

Negotiations continued between representatives of UAW Local 216 and the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac plant in South Gate, the only remaining plant still on strike in the Los Angeles area.

The Pentagon is the largest office building in the world, covering 34 acres including a five-acre center court. However, it does not accommodate all the personnel of the Department of Defense.

7 Counties Hold Answer In State Vote

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Seven of California's 58 counties hold the answer to how the nation's most populous state will cast its lot in the general election.

Republicans are counting on a strong showing in Southern California while the Democrats hope to corner their margin of victory within the northern area.

The key counties are Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego in the south, Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Clara in the north.

In the south, Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego represent 50.1 per cent of the state's voting strength.

In the north, San Francisco, Alameda, San Mateo and Santa Clara have 18.4 per cent of California's registered voters.

The north traditionally has been a Democratic stronghold. Here the majority party hopes to build up a lead that cannot be surpassed by a Republican surge in the lower half of the state.

Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater and senatorial hopeful George Murphy need a healthy margin in the south to offset the Democratic strength in the north.

For the Republicans, Orange County is a key factor. Here lies 5.7 per cent of California's voting power and the only big county with a Republican majority.

The GOP needs a big margin in Orange and a strong showing in Los Angeles, where 3,137,194 registered voters reside, to overcome the anticipated Democratic strength in San Francisco, Alameda, Santa Clara and San Mateo.
